

About the authors

Jens Becker is editorial board member of SEER and teaches at the Johann Wolfgang Goethe University, Frankfurt/Main.

Rasim Özgür Dönmez is Associate Professor in the International Relations Department of Abant İzzet Baysal University.

Kiril Jovanovski is at the Faculty of Economics, University of Ss. Cyril and Methodius, Macedonia. He graduated in 2005 from the Department of Financial Management before working for Commerce Bank. Finance remains his area of specialism. e-mail: kirilj@eccf.ukim.edu.mk.

Dobrin Kanev is editorial board member of SEER and teaches at the New Bulgarian University, Sofia.

Rajko Kosanović PhD is Counsellor to the President of the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Unions of Serbia. He received his Masters at the Economic Faculty and his PhD at the Faculty of Law, University of Belgrade. Before moving to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Union of Serbia in 2007, he was employed at the Health Secretariat of the City Assembly of Belgrade as Assistant Secretary for Economic Affairs. He currently chairs the Board of Directors of the Republican Health Insurance Fund and has been a member of numerous expert teams and committees that have prepared acts of law and by-laws relating to health care, health insurance and pensions insurance. He has published several books and has written over 190 articles.

Irina Kozina Dr. graduated from the Faculty of History at Samara State University and has a sociology PhD (1996). She is Deputy Director of the Institute for Social Development Studies at the Higher School of Economics of the State University. Her interests lie in labour market studies, social policy, labour relations and gender.

Kristin Nickel Makszin is a PhD student in the Political Science/International Relations Department of Central European University and a Research Fellow at the Centre for the Study of Imperfections in Democracies (DISC). Her dissertation research investigates the role of political parties in determining instances of reform and continuity of welfare states in central and eastern Europe. e-mail: nickel\_kristin@ceu-budapest.edu

Katerina Malygina is a PhD student at the Research Centre for East European Studies at the University of Bremen and is a freelance writer for the online journal Ukraine-Analysen.

Sanja Paunović MSc (Econ.) is Senior Adviser in the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Union of Serbia. She received her Masters at the Economic Faculty, University of Belgrade. Before moving to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Union of Serbia in 2007, she was employed at the Federal Ministry of Foreign Trade, the Federal Ministry for Foreign Economic Relations and the Ministry for International Economic Relations of Serbia and Montenegro. She has authored several books and has written over 50 articles.

Goran Petrevski PhD is an Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Economics, University of Ss. Cyril and Methodius, Macedonia, where he is Associate Dean for Teaching Economics. He is a member of the National Bank of Macedonia. His research interests lie in: macroeconomics, monetary policy, banking, the economics of exchange rates and fiscal decentralisation. e-mail: goran@eccf.ukim.edu.mk

Tatjana Dragičević Radičević Dr. is Assistant Professor in the Department of Business Studies, Megatrend University, Belgrade. Her fields of interests are: economy; and the international economy, while she teaches courses in business economics, entrepreneurship, international business and corporate management. She is an author of many works in these fields and has also published at domestic and international research conferences and projects.