

Ana Paula Barbosa-Fohrmann
Narrating Experiences of Alzheimer's Through the Arts

Editorial

Human beings are more than the sum of their organs and body parts: their roles in society, their (hi)stories, their living and economic conditions, but also their dreams, fears, and inventions impact their health.

The inter- and transdisciplinary edited series Medical Humanities will connect the perspectives of medicine, the humanities, and social sciences to gain new insights about how society, health, and the environment interact. Focusing on the living human body, the Medical Humanities series raises urgent questions on gender politics and bioethics, and mediates between care and health policies, technology and body images.

Ana Paula Barbosa-Fohrmann, born in 1971, is a professor of Legal Theory at the National Law School (FND) of the Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ). She holds a PhD in Philosophy from UFRJ, one PhD and two Postdocs in Law from the Ruprecht-Karls-Universität Heidelberg. She is the coordinator of the Research Group on Theory of Human Rights (NTDH). Her field of research is interdisciplinary and has been focusing on the relation between Law, Philosophy and the Arts.
