

Contents

List of Acronyms	11
List of Arabic Words	13
Introduction	19
To search for new homes and to construct houses, we first need to dwell	20
The dilemma of shelters	23
The refugee camp as a disciplinary machine	24
Dismantling and reassembling	25
What is new about this study?	27
The right to appropriate	29
The Zaatari refugee camp	31
Fieldwork	33
Data collection	36
Co-mapping: a new research method	39
Outlook: opportunities and challenges	42
Theoretical Overview
Dwelling and the Birth of Shelter	45
Dwelling as a phenomenon	46
Dwelling between top-down and bottom-up practices	48
The house and the home	50
Shelter as a global phenomenon	54
Shelter and the dwelling	55
Shelter and emergency	56
Part One: Dismantling
Interlude
Syrians in Jordan and the Construction of Camps	61

Chapter 1
Zaatari Camp and its Planning	67
Camp evolution	68
The planning of Zaatari camp	72
Dismantling Zaatari camp	74
Caravanization	79
Refugees' origins and backgrounds	81
From dismantling to reassembling	85

Part Two: Reassembling the Social

Introduction
The Social Ordering of Space	89
Reassembling and the social space	90
The social dynamics of reassembling	93
Introduction to case studies	94

Chapter 2
Visual Privacy	97
Dwelling in density	97
Dwelling as a collective act and the semiotics of space	102

Chapter 3
Family Relations	109
Dialects of mobility: disappearance and presence	118
Dwelling as a 'family business'	119

Chapter 4
Culture, Knowledge, Memory and Identity	121
Dwelling on the edge	122
Catalysing culture and negotiating identities	131
The Role of knowledge	135
Chapter summary	142

Outro
From the Social to the Material	143

Part Three: Reassembling the Material

Chapter 5

The Caravan

Economics and Architectonics	153
The significance of caravans	154
A surplus of caravans	155
The caravan market	156
The realtors	158
From a shelter unit to an architectural element	160
Dismantling and reassembling the caravan	161
Building with caravans	169
The structural qualities of the caravan	171
The material dynamics of reassembling	171

Chapter 6

Tents, Zinco and Cement

Temporariness and the Politics of Materiality	175
On materiality and temporariness	175
Assembling, or 'dismantling and reassembling'?	176
Time and politics as material dynamics of reassembling	177
Tents	178
Corrugated sheets (zinco)	181
Concrete blocks	184
Cement	188
From the material to the synthesis	193

Refugees as Architects	195
-------------------------------------	-----

Conclusion	203
-------------------------	-----

Dwelling and the camp	203
Dwelling and the shelter	205
Dwelling and appropriations	206
From Syria to the world	207

Acknowledgements	209
-------------------------------	-----

Bibliography	211
---------------------------	-----

'An architecture can be compared to language, and the act of dwelling to speech'
Henri Lefebvre (2014, 53)

