

Content

Preface | 9

Introduction: A Sociology of Lived Nationhood in Montreal and Brussels | 13

SECTION 1 FIVE WORK TASKS AND THREE MODES OF OPERATING NATIONHOOD

Chapter 1. Building Nations as a Profession: The Work Task Dynamic Operating upon Nationhood | 37

- 1.1. Cultivating Nationhood:
 - Writing and Publishing for the Nation | 39
 - Vignette 1: The Katholieke Universiteit Leuven Split | 41
 - Vignette 2: Philip's Counterfactual Exercise | 43
 - 1.1.1 On the Making of Knowledge and Cultural Productions | 53
 - 1.1.1.1 Philip's Life Story | 53
 - 1.1.1.2 Philip's Niche in the Field of Cultural Production:
Offering English-language Books about Quebec | 61
 - 1.1.2 Navigating through Bi-Ethnicity with a Cause for Quebec and its Sovereignty: Knowledge and Cultural Production Beyond
Two Solitudes | 67
- 1.2 A Nationalist Dynamic:
 - When the Work of a Lifetime Operates upon Nationhood | 72
- 1.3 Epilogue: Working for a Popular Soap Opera:
 - Cultivating Nationhood without an Identifiable Nationalist Motive | 75

Chapter 2. Elaborating National Constructs as Strategies: The Work Task Dynamic Operating with Nationhood | 81

- 2.1 Nationhood as Context for Staging Public Figures:
 - Sharing Knowledge as a Teacher and Communicating Information
as a Journalist | 82

- 2.1.1 The Bias Towards Nationhood-Related Topics:
Education, Journalism, and Methodological Nationalism | 89
- 2.1.2 Properly Fulfilling Tasks:
Elaborating National Contexts | 91
- 2.2 Doing Business with Nationhood:
A Representative, a Manager, a Seller, and a Technician
in National Markets | 94
 - 2.2.1 Nationhood as Knowledge for Promoting and Selling... | 95
 - Vignette 3: The Québécois Cola | 105
 - 2.2.2 ... And Promoting and Selling with Nationhood | 108
 - 2.2.3 National Products and Services:
The Bias of National Markets | 115
 - 2.2.4 The Elaboration of Business Plans:
Nationhood-Related Knowledge and References as Levers | 116
- 2.3 An Acknowledged Dynamic:
Operating with Nationhood for the Sake of Convenience | 119

Chapter 3. The Power of States and Routines:

The Work Task Dynamic Operated by Nationhood | 125

- 3.1 Mapping Land with Nationhood:
Routine Practices of a Veterinarian and an Environmental
Technician | 126
 - 3.1.1 Reifying Space as National:
Power, Landscapes, and Routine Practices | 137
 - 3.1.2 From Territorial Matters to Linguistic Issues | 140
- 3.2 Compliance with Languages: A Nurse's and a Human Resources Employee's Practices of Accommodating
Bilingualism | 141
 - 3.2.1 Workplaces and Linguistic Practices | 156
 - 3.2.1.1 Linguistic Legislation and Bilingualism:
Employees Addressing Impositions on the Work Floor | 157
 - 3.2.1.2 Hierarchy and Provider-Customer Relations:
Employees Addressing Work-Related Positions | 160
 - 3.2.2 From Complying to Reifying Languages and Linguistic Dualities:
Resisting Prescriptions and Accommodating Practices | 161
- 3.3 A Concealed Dynamic:
Work Tasks Operated by Nationhood through Routines | 163

SECTION 2

THE UNQUESTIONABILITY OF A WORLD DIVIDED INTO NATIONS

Chapter 4. Doing Nationhood and Making Nations:

The Everyday Significance of Living in a World of Nations | 169

- 4.1 Lived Nationhood:
 - Back to the Research Design | 169
 - 4.1.1 Nationhood as Part of Activities:
 - Moving beyond the Category Nation | 172
 - 4.1.2 Investigating Lived Nationhood in a Defined Environment:
 - Constructing a Cohesive Frame of Reference | 177
- 4.2 Three Work Task Dynamics:
 - Three Modes of Operating Nationhood | 180
 - 4.2.1 Doing Nationhood:
 - An Implicit Way of Acting | 185
 - 4.2.2 Making Nations:
 - Legitimizing Elements as National | 190

Chapter 5. Lived Nationhood in Montreal and Brussels:

A Model Particular to Bi-Ethnonational Milieus | 199

- 5.1 The Banality of Bi-Ethnicity:
 - Acknowledgements, Confrontations, Collaborations,
and Negotiations | 201
- 5.2 The Hegemony of Bi-Ethnicity in Montreal and Brussels:
 - A Shared Experience of Nationhood | 209

Conclusion | 215

Bibliography | 221

