A New Science for Future

Climate Impact Modeling and the Quest for Digital Openness

[transcript]

This book is based on the dissertation »Opening Science for future. The Science & Technology of Climate Impact Prediction«, which was accepted by the Faculty of Philosophy at the University of Siegen in November 2019. The research and publication were supported by the DFG Research Training Group Locating Media at the University of Siegen, Germany. Ethnographic field work for the study was enabled through a visiting fellowship at the Potsdam Institute for Climate Impact Research (PIK). The author would like to thank these institutions and the supervisors, Tristan Thielmann and Cornelius Schubert, for their valuable support.
