

Table of Contents

Introduction

Welcome to the Battlefield. Please Make Yourself Comfortable	9
GÜNTHER FRIESINGER , JOHANNES GRENZFURTHNER, THOMAS BALLHAUSEN

1. Hacking the City

Urban Hacking as a Practical and Theoretical Critique of Public Spaces	13
FRANK APUNKT SCHNEIDER, GÜNTHER FRIESINGER

Urban Hacking as a Strategy for Urban (Re-)Planning/Designing	35
MELANIE GADRINGER

Spandrel Evolution. Emergent Spaces of Resistance in the 21st Century	45
BONNI RAMBATAN

Playing with the Built City	49
ELEANOR SAITTA

Please love Banksy. A retrospective on the options of an art of disruption in public space in Vienna.	83
THOMAS EDLINGER

2. Communication and Creativity

Guerilla.com	95
JOHANNES GRENZFURTHNER

Guerrilla Gardening. Political protest, or mainstream-compatible, watered-down, wannabe subculture?	107
JULIA JAHNKE

Lenin as Major Urban Hacker in Lviv. From monument to market.	119
BOHDAN SHUMYLOVYCH

Verbal Graffiti. Textures of unofficial messages in public space today	131
THOMAS NORTHOFF

Urban Hacking. An artist strategy	147
ANNETT ZINSMEISTER

The most dangerous thing on the air. Someone broadcasts something	163
THOMAS THURNER

Improv Everywhere. An interview with Charlie Todd	169
JOHANNES GRENZFURTHNER

3. Codes and Consequences

P2PFOUND CITIES. Project Proposal for the Reconstruction and the Preservation of Abruzzo	175
AGATINO RIZZO, ERIC HUNTING, MICHEL BAUWENS, CITYLEFT, P2P FOUNDATION

cODE wRITING. On (Artificial) Writing	187
KERSTIN OHLER

Urban Trash Zone. Notes on the collapsing city in Warren Ellis' and Ben Templesmiths Fell: Feral City	205
VERENA-CATHRIN BAUER

CONTROL	215
THOMAS BALLHAUSEN

List of contributors	227
----------------------	-----