

Contents

Popularizing dementia.

Public expressions and representations of forgetfulness

Aagje Swinnen & Mark Schweda | 9

I. LITERARY FICTION

The locus of our dis-ease.

Narratives of family life in the age of Alzheimer's

Lucy Burke | 23

Deconstructing the American family.

Figures of parents with dementia in Jonathan Franzen's The Corrections and A.M. Homes' May We Be Forgiven

Sadie Wearing | 43

Purging the world of the Whore and the horror.

Gothic and apocalyptic portrayals of dementia in Canadian fiction

Marlene Goldman | 69

Narrating the limits of narration.

Alzheimer's disease in contemporary literary texts

Irmela Marei Krüger-Fürhoff | 89

The 'terrifying question mark'.

Dementia, fiction, and the possibilities of narrative

Naomi Kruger | 109

II. ART, ARTISTIC APPROACHES, AND FILM

Dementia on the canvas.

Art and the biopolitics of creativity

Scott Selberg | 137

Cultural projection of dementia in the Reminiscence Museum.

Dynamics of extrapolation

Elena Bendien | 163

Opening Minds through Art.

Students' constructions of people with dementia

Oliver R. Hautz | 185

'Zip!'

Dementia materialized in clothing design

Sonja Iltanen | 205

Challenging representations of dementia

in contemporary Western fiction film.

From epistemic injustice to social participation

Andrea Capstick, John Chatwin, & Katherine Ludwin | 229

Intercorporeal relations and ethical perception.

Portrayals of Alzheimer's disease in Away from Her and En säng för Martin

Lisa Folkmarson Käll | 253

III. MEDIA DISCOURSES AND PUBLIC UNDERSTANDINGS

Dementia in the making.

Early detection and the body/brain in Alzheimer's disease

Annette Leibing | 275

The meanings of early diagnostics for Alzheimer's disease in Dutch newspapers.

A framing analysis

Yvonne Cuijpers & Harro van Lente | 295

Respect for autonomy?

The contribution of popular magazines to the public understanding of dementia care

Sanna Inthorn & Julia Inthorn | 315

Representations of Alzheimer's disease among non-specialists.

A cross-cultural study between Paris and Boston

Marie-Christine Nizzi | 333

In the company of robots.

Health care and the identity of people with dementia

Ike Kamphof | 359

The zero-degree of dementia.

Thinking the gap between subject and substance

Elana Commisso | 377

Acknowledgements | 403

Authors | 405

