

Contents

---

Acknowledgements .....	7
1. More-than-human choreography on a broken planet .....	9
1.1 Introduction .....	9
The Artificial Nature Project (Mette Ingvarsen) .....	27
1.2 Context: What is 'expanded choreography'? .....	38
1.3 Method: describing the consistency and choreographic logic of assemblages .....	58
1.4 Outline of the argument .....	64
2. Barricades as entangled things .....	71
Rainforest (Merce Cunningham) and Barricade Ballet (Tools for Action) .....	71
2.1 Things that gather and resist .....	78
2.2 Things at hand: relational, but concealed .....	80
2.3 Things that run and fly .....	87
Barricades and Dances (Moritz Frischkorn) .....	95
2.4 Turbulent flow: barricades as choreopolitical operators .....	101
2.5 Composing things as barricade: hesitation .....	106
2.6 Barricades as spaces of attunement .....	114
3. Assemblages as more-than-human performances .....	117
Homage to New York (Jean Tinguely) .....	117
3.1 Territorialization and deterritorialization: degrees of cohesion .....	121
3.2 The performative enactment of assemblages .....	128
Polysset (Vladimir Miller) .....	139
3.3 Assemblages as fields of action and spaces of circulation: 'preferred articulations' .....	146
3.4 The choreographic diagram of assemblages: 'to follow the flow of matter' .....	156
4. Logistics as socio-material choreography .....	165
We Love Logistics (UPS) and We are Maersk. We move mountains (Maersk) .....	165
4.1 Contemporary logistics and its choreographic logic .....	178
4.2 Colonial logistics and the onto-epistemic violence of transport .....	191

4.3 Algorithmic governance: emergent choreography .....	203
African Terminal (geheimagentur).....	208
4.4 Unframing the stage, shifting agency, recalibrating the movement of people and things .....	218
4.5 A general realm of 'logisticality' .....	225
5. Attunement: a more-than-human choreography of care .....	231
Literature .....	243