

Contents

Introduction
Friederike Landau, Lucas Pohl and Nikolai Roskamm 9

Theoretical (Re)Positionings

The World and the Real:
Space and the Political after Lacan
Lucas Pohl and Erik Swyngedouw 43

Encountering Post-Foundationalism in J.K. Gibson-Graham's
Space of Pregnant Negativity
Or, Ungrounding the Ground Itself
Jens Kaae Fisker 63

On Shaky Ground:
Thinking Lefebvre
Nikolai Roskamm 81

Institution and Dislocation:
Philosophical Roots of Laclau's Discourse Theory of Space and Antagonism
Oliver Marchart 99

Badiou as a Post-Foundationalist

Matthew G. Hannah 117

Spacing Rancière's Politics

Mark Davidson and Kurt Iveson 133

[Un]Grounding Geographies

[Un]Grounding Agonistic Public Space:

Approaching Mouffe's Spatial Theory via Museums

Friederike Landau 153

Always Geographize!

Fredric Jameson and Political Space

Clint Burnham 175

The Most Sublime Geographer:

Žižek with Place, Distance, and Scale

Lucas Pohl and Paul Kingsbury 197

Modelling the Market as a Socio-Spatial Structure:

Theory Triangulation between Post-Foundational Discourse Analysis and Relational Sociology

Tomas Marttila 217

Post-Foundationalism in the City

(Non)Building Alliances:

Approaching Urban Politics through Siegfried Kracauer's Concept of Nonsolution

Gabu Heindl and Drehli Robnik 243

Politicizing Air:

On the Political Effects of Spatial Imagination

Anneleen Kenis and Matthias Lievens 261

Materialization of Antidiscipline:
Small-Scale Post-Foundationalism Using Michel de Certeau’s Clash
of Strategies and Tactics
Sören Groth 279

How Does The [Un]Grounded Interface Generate Possibilities for Spatial Alternatives?
Mohamed Saleh 301

A Post-Foundational Conception of Politics and Space:
Henri Lefebvre and Jacques Rancière revisited in Resisting Athens
Daniel Mullis 323

Authors 343

