

Contents

Acknowledgements	9
1. Introduction: Still Loving Solidarity?	13
2. Theorising Solidarity and New Transnational Social Movements	29
Historical and Conceptual Approaches to Solidarity and their Controversies.....	30
Critical Approaches to Solidarity across and beyond Differences	43
New Social Movements and the Transnationalisation of Indigenous Resistance.....	55
Challenging Eurocentrism in New Transnational Social Movement Research	58
3. An Ethnography of and in Solidarity	69
Epistemological and Methodological Foundations	69
A Networked Activist Ethnography of and in Solidarity (2014–2017)	78
Reflection and Redistribution	91
4. Solidarity and the Transnational Cultural Politics of Autonomy	101
Autonomy as Mapuche Cultural Politics	103
Transnationalising Wallmapu: Solidarity and the Mapuche Diaspora since the 1970s.....	113
Weaving International Solidarity	124
5. Transnational Mapuche Advocacy	143
The Domestic Blockage and Transnational Framing of Mapuche Advocacy	144
Informational Politics and Digital Mapuche Media/Activism	161
Transnational Pressure: Symbolic, Leverage, and Accountability Politics	176
Fortifying Wallmapu: Against Handouts and Towards Economic Solidarity	186
Mapuchising Advocacy: Transcultural Dialogues and Translations.....	198

6. A Critique of Whiteness and Maputhusiasm in Solidarity	207
Researching Whiteness in Solidarity	209
From Left-Wing Melancholia Towards an Ecological Cosmopolitanism from Below	214
A Critique of Maputhusiasm in Solidarity	223
7. Critical Practices and Assemblages of Solidarity	237
Solidarity as Compromiso : Towards a Critical Praxis of Solidarity	239
Solidarity as Compartir : (Critical) Practices of Sharing in Solidarity	250
Solidarity as keyuwvn/mingako : The Assemblages of Solidarity	259
8. Conclusion	283
Epilogue – Towards a Reconstitution	299
References	305
Appendix	335
A: Glossary	336
B: Words in Mapuzugun	338
C: List of Personal Interviews	340
List of Figures	343
List of Tables	345

Dedicated to all the Mapuche women, men, and children who have been violated, tortured, abused, and murdered in Chile – you are not alone!

