

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
1. Introduction	11
1.1 Methodology	14
1.2 Structure	17
2. Conceptual Impulses and Cultural Context	21
2.1 American Culture and the Invective	27
2.2 Humor and the Invective	36
2.3 Situation Comedies and the Invective	45
3. Invective Humor: Discourses of Otherness	53
3.1 Invective Fools in Mike & Molly	55
3.2 Ceasing to 'Do' Female: Auto-Invective Comedy from Phyllis Diller to 2 Broke Girls	74
4. Reflexive Invectivity: The Comedy of Super Niceness in Parks and Recreation 91
4.1 The Invective Logic of Serial Outbidding	93
4.2 Michael Schur's Œuvre: From Postmodern Cynicism to the Metamodern Belief in Human Interconnection	101
The Office	110
Parks and Recreation	111
Brooklyn 99	118
The Good Place	121
4.3 Why We Hate Jerry Gergich: Selective Disparagement in Super Nice Sitcoms	125
Parks and Recreation's Jerry Gergich	130
Brooklyn 99's Hitchcock and Scully	140

5.	Dynamizing Invectivity: The Role of Invectives in the Boundary Work of the Genre	147
5.1	Embarrassment as an Invective Strategy in the Mockumentary Sitcoms The Comeback and Parks and Recreation	151
5.2	Deconstructing the Dramedy: Invective Structures in the Fusion of Drama and Comedy in The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel	168
5.3	Reviving Roseanne : Capitalizing Nostalgia and Invectives in Times of the Trump Presidency	190
6.	Conclusion	219
	Bibliography	225
	Works Cited	225
	Television Shows and Films Cited	260