

List of Figures

Fig. 2.1 The Gothicized BBC studio	89
Fig. 2.2 Thermal imaging camera	98
Fig. 2.3 A peek into "Ghostwatch"'s on-location outside broadcasting (OB) truck	99
Fig. 2.4 Reel-to-reel tape machine at the BBC studio	100
Fig. 2.5 Video wall and mobile television set with light pen	100
Fig. 2.6 Glitches disrupting the broadcast as the manifestations at the house increase until.....	107
Fig. 2.7 ...the television signal collapses completely	108
Fig. 3.1 The novel's edition notice	122
Fig. 3.2 Three sets of competing footnotes	126
Fig. 3.3 Navidson at the bottom of the stairwell.....	130
Fig. 3.4 ...and Reston at the top	131
Fig. 3.5 Illegible text as evolution	148
Fig. 4.1 Foreshadowing at the end of "Ringu"	171
Fig. 4.2 Deleted scene from "The Ring"	173
Fig. 4.3 Close-up of the video tape.....	173
Fig. 4.4 Disorienting shot of high rises	180
Fig. 4.5 Rachel steps out onto her balcony	180
Fig. 4.6 Rachel gazes into apartments in neighboring buildings	181
Fig. 4.7 The camera pans from one window to the next.....	181
Fig. 4.8 ...displaying the physical proximity of the inhabitants	182
Fig. 4.9 Rachel as part of the overcrowded, fragmented metropolis	182
Fig. 4.10 Multiple Sadakos in a shop window at an electronics retailer	193
Fig. 4.11 Truck with LCD screen as symbol of the mediasaturated world	193
Fig. 4.12 Corrupted paratext	196

Fig. 4.13 Samara's appearance twice removed from reality.....	201
Fig. 5.1 One (techno-)ghost occupying multiple locations simultaneously	218
Fig. 5.2 Michi alone on the bus.....	220
Fig. 5.3 Michi, getting off the bus, is almost indiscernible	220
Fig. 5.4 Geometrical patterns dominate Kurosawa's detached style	221
Fig. 5.5 The supernatural media virus leaves visible traces... ..	227
Fig. 5.6 ...turning the skin of its victims an inky black color	228
Fig. 5.7 The opening credits of "Pulse" juxtapose images... ..	230
Fig. 5.8 ...of animated epidemiological maps... ..	230
Fig. 5.9 ...and diverse digital technologies	231
Fig. 5.10 Leaflet with safety instructions	234
Fig. 5.11 Multiple pages forming a single image	239
Fig. 5.12 A feeling of surveillance pervades "Kairo," evoked by long shots... ..	242
Fig. 5.13 ...and obstructed, distorted perspectives.....	243
Fig. 5.14 Obstructed perspectives remain a common feature throughout "Kairo"	243
Fig. 5.15 Bird's-eye view of the campus	244
Fig. 5.16 Camera position changes between such surveillance shots	245