I would like to thank all the people who accompanied me while I wrote this book. Firstly, my PhD supervisors, Nicole Falkenhayner and Barbara Korte, for their valuable feedback, for their support, good humour, patience and trust. Secondly, Ulrike Zimmermann, for being a true companion to this book, from my vague initial ideas down to the very last typo, and Philipp Multhaupt, her right-hand man in all editorial matters. Thirdly, colleagues at the English Department and the SFB 948, especially those with whom I worked side by side at the 'Heroes HQ' for four years.

It was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity and a true privilege to be part of the SFB 948 / DFG Collaborative Research Center 948 "Heroes – Heroizations – Heroisms" at the University of Freiburg. Its environment and infrastructure gave me the intellectual, personal and not least financial freedom to work on the PhD thesis that is the foundation and heart of this book. Representative of everyone at the SFB, I want to thank its speaker Ralf von den Hoff for his drive, dedication and contagious enthusiasm for collaborative research in general and the heroic in particular.

Finally, to my family and friends: I trust that you know who you are – from the bottom of my heart, thank you for being by my side, always.
