Dedicated to

Dr. Ing. Eckart Dankert
(† 2008)

whose passing away taught me the meaning of time.

Acknowledgements

I would like to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation to my academic advisor, Prof. Dr. Kristina Balleis, for her comprehensive advice, motivation and encouragement throughout the working process of this paper while simultaneously supporting me in expressing intellectual freedom.

I would also like to acknowledge my closest ones and worldwide located best friends for continuous support and listening and for understanding my extremely busy travelling schedule throughout the last year, yet always finding time to meet on a different continent and to interculturally engage in discussions.

Finally, I would like to express my sincerest and profound gratitude to my mother and role model Christiane Dankert, for providing me with continuous encouragement, honest feedback, creative advice, inspiration and unfailing support throughout the years of my studies, for enabling me to travel the world and to pursue my goals. This accomplishment would not have been possible without you! Thank you!
