

Figures and Tables

- Figure 1: Asylum applications and recognition rate in Switzerland (1968–2017) | 26
- Figure 2: Enactment, stabilisation, and effects of the dispositif | 71
- Figure 3: Evaluations of asylum procedure, outcomes and respective legal status | 103
- Figure 4: Schematic overview of asylum office before and after reorganisation | 110
- Figure 5: Desk with case files in the headquarters | 154
- Figure 6: File directory of asylum case | 157
- Figure 7: COI note concerning the “situation of homosexuals” in Uganda | 166
- Figure 8: LINGUA expertise form | 169
- Figure 9: Case trajectories and processual events of case-making | 188
- Figure 10: Personal form for asylum applicants | 191
- Figure 11: Extract from applicant’s potential “hits” in different databases | 194
- Figure 12: Internal triage form of asylum case file | 235
- Figure 13: The SEM archive | 242
- Figure 14: Front pages of decision* with and without outline of the outcome | 265
- Figure 15: Dispositive* of asylum decision* stating its legal consequences | 277
- Figure 16: “Production” of section counting statistically relevant completions | 362
- Figure 17: Newspaper article on productivity pressure: “In the Asylum Factory” | 367

Figure 18: Sketch of how things relate in the asylum dispositif's enactment | 400

Table 1: Considerations for evaluation of “persecution relevance” | 118