

Acknowledgments

The work on my dissertation project was in part funded by the Elsa-Neumann-Stipendium des Landes Berlin. I want to thank my dissertation supervisor Eva Boesenberg for her support of my project, for her valuable suggestions, and for encouraging me to think in different directions. I also like to thank Eveline Kilian for our interesting discussions and for providing me with new insights to approaching Intersex narratives. Eva Brunner and Amina Grunewald, my motivation group, provided great support and always a sympathetic ear. I thank Isabel Scholz and Kai Linke for joining me in the resistance to structural issues at university, and Silvia Arlt for our lively debates about feminism and classism in academia and beyond. Ahu Tanrisever, Isabelle Ulbrich and Carrie Khou always supported me on our common academic journeys since the Mannheim days. Closer to home, I want to thank my great friends who believed in me, who always knew I would make it, and who I can always count on when the chips are down. I owe in particular Tina Mlinarevic, Anusha Atreya, Ute Gamm, Claudia Grube and Urs Försterling, who supported me in any possible ways during all stages in the process of writing. Finally, I want to thank my family, especially my parents, sister and brother and my grandmother, for their support and their unwavering confidence in me and my skills. This project would not have been possible without you.
