This book is the product of my research that I conducted since October 2016 as a doctoral candidate and research assistant at the University of Potsdam. In November 2023, it was accepted as an inaugural dissertation at the Faculty of Law of the University of Potsdam.

My professional, academic and personal experiences have contributed immensely to this research. Thanks are due to the many friends, colleagues and mentors that generously contributed their time to listening to my ideas, challenged me and inspired me. I owe special thanks to my academic supervisor and mentor, Professor Dr. Andreas Zimmermann of the University of Potsdam, for his constructive criticism and helping me focus on the crucial aspects of this research. Likewise, thanks are also due to the members of my examination committee, in particular Professor Dr. Norman Weiß and Professor Dr. Christian Bickenbach. I would also like to thank the members of the Berlin-Potsdam KFG Research Group on the International Rule of Law. It was here where I first presented my research, and I would like to thank Professor Dr. Georg Nolte for his comments and suggestions.

Critical for my research was my stay at New York University School of Law where I spent a year pursuing an LL.M. in International Legal Studies. This time was made possible by a Hauser Global Scholarship, by the Studienstiftung des Deutschen Volkes under the European Recovery Program, and by a Fulbright Scholarship. My discussions with Professor José E. Alvarez and Professor Angelina Fisher inspired me to look beyond the binary of binding and non-binding instruments in international organizations law. My understanding of the practical functioning of international law—as well as the United Nations—was further sharpened through my Judicial Fellowship at the International Court of Justice with Judge Giorgio Gaja.

Having an idea is one thing, making the first and last steps is altogether a very different endeavor. My parents, Sabine and Gerd, and my brother Benjamin deserve gratitude to constantly remind me of the importance of what I had started. Likewise, thanks are due to Wenzel Kiehne and Göran Boeckel who reminded me to finish. Above all, no words can express how much I owe to Aïssa Boodhoo-Leegsma.
