

Contents

Acknowledgments	9
------------------------------	---

The Order of People and the Promise of Post-Racial Classifications

Tino Plümecke, Jenny Reardon, Nils Ellebrecht, Andrea zur Nieden, Veronika Lipphardt, Isabelle Bartram	11
---	----

Beyond Categories and Back Again

From One to(o) Many

The Use of Forensic DNA Phenotyping in the Criminal Justice System Filipa Queirós and Rafaela Granja	31
--	----

ANI versus ASI, or Aryans versus Dravidians?

Science-Politics Entanglements in the Making of New Categories of Difference in India Thiago P. Barbosa	49
---	----

Who Is a Hunter-Gatherer?

Anthropological Concepts and Their Use in Microbiome Research Robert Meunier	67
--	----

New Categories but Old Meanings

Ethnicity Disguised as Migration Background?

Technologies of Difference in German Epidemiology Andrea zur Nieden, Laura Schnieder, Isabelle Bartram, Nils Ellebrecht, Tino Plümecke	89
--	----

Biologies of Ethnicity

Artifacts of Politics in German Life Sciences Tino Plümecke and Isabelle Bartram	105
--	-----

Translation Matters

Racial Classification in South Korean Genetic and Genomic Research Jaehwan Hyun	133
---	-----

Reconstructing Narratives

Exploring the Significance of Descent and Ancestry for People of African Descent Nicole Sommer	151
--	-----

Mapping Genomes through History

Using Global Ancestry in a Contemporary Population Genetics Approach to Dengue Ricardo Gomes Moreira	167
--	-----

Global Power and the Circulation of Standards

Ambivalence about Race

Expert Opinions on Using Racial and Ethnic Categories in Clinical Research in Sweden Anna Bredström and Shai Mulinari	193
---	-----

A Matter of Getting Used to It?

Doing Medical Science with Race in a Race-Cautious Country Nils Ellebrecht	209
--	-----

Identifying the Asian Body

Ancestry and Belonging in Forensic Anthropology Trudi Buck and Yulia Egorova	243
--	-----

Postracial Performative Identifications and Subjectifications

“Who Is the Most European of Us All?”

Occidentalism, European Identity, and Counterknowledge on Race and Genomics Claude-Olivier Doron	255
--	-----

Otherness in Focus

Visualizations of Genetic Distances in DNA Studies of Roma Veronika Lipphardt and Mihai Surdu	287
---	-----

Contextualizing the Representations of Finland as a Population Isolate

Aaro Tupasela and Heta Tarkkala	307
--	-----

GenomeIndia

The Epistemologies and Politics of Stitching together Genetic Variation in Indians Mahendra Shahare	327
---	-----

Appendix

About the Authors 345

