

About the authors

George Aspridis Dr is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Project Management of the Technological Educational Institute of Larissa. His main research interests include human resource management, corporate social responsibility, public policies and European issues. e-mail: aspridis@teilar.gr

Masoura Eleftheria Dr. is a teaching assistant in the Faculty of Economic and Social Sciences of the University of Macedonia. She also works in the Social Security Institute (IKA). Her research interests include: labour economics, with an emphasis on labour relations policies; and macroeconomics, with an emphasis on social security policies.

Nilay Etiler, MD, is Associate Professor at the Kocaeli University, Faculty of Medicine, Public Health Department, Umuttepe Campus. Kocaeli. TURKEY. e-mail: nilayetiler@gmail.com

Béla Galgóczi is Senior Researcher at the European Trade Union Institute, Brussels, and Editor of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe

Petya Georgieva is a PhD in Economics and a chief expert at the Ministry of Finance. Her fields of expertise are education, healthcare and administrative decentralisation.

Danijela Jaćimović PhD is Associate Professor in the Faculty of Economics at the University of Montenegro. Her main areas of expertise lie in international economics and finance, and the European Union and EU institutions. e-mail: jacimda@hotmail.com

Kuvvet Lordoglu is Professor at Kocaeli University, Faculty of Economics and Business Administration, Department of Labour Economics and Industrial Relations, Umuttepe Campus. Kocaeli. TURKEY. e-mail: klordoglu@gmail.com

Ivan Markov is a MSc. in Statistics and Mathematics and a state expert at the Ministry of Finance. He is interested in sector analyses, state decentralisation and demographic studies.

Jeni Nacheva is a PhD in Economics and a unit director at the Ministry of Finance. She has dedicated her professional career to healthcare analysis and municipality budget management.

Marina Petrelli Dr is a Research Associate in the Institute of European Integration and Policy of the University of Athens. Her main research interests include: Euro-peanisation, common security and defence policy, EU's external action, European institutions, international relations and diplomacy. e-mail: mpetrelli@pspa.uoa.gr

Lela Rekhviashvili is a PhD student at the Central European University, Budapest, and a member of the Political Economy Research Group in CEU's Doctoral School of Political Science, Public Policy and International Relations. e-mail: Rekhviashvili_Lela@ceu-budapest.edu

Bruno S. Sergi is Professor at the University of Messina, Italy. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe.

Liviu Voinea PhD is Co-ordinator of the Labour Market and Job Quality Observation Office, an independent research institute promoted by the Romanian trade union confederation Blocul Național Sindical whose aim is to increase awareness of issues related to employment and job quality in the direction of the modernisation of Romanian industrial relations. e-mail: liviu.voinea@gea.org.ro

Yosif Yosifov is a PhD candidate in the Economics of Healthcare, and a junior expert at the Ministry of Finance. He currently works on the problems of healthcare financing and infant mortality in Bulgaria.

Maria Zareva is an MA in Economics and a unit director at the Ministry of Finance. Her expertise is focused on sectoral and fiscal analyses.