

Contents

Introduction. Women's Modes, Legacies and Futures in Music Iva Nenić and Linda Cimardi	9
Uneven Terrains of Struggle: Towards the Transformative Notion of Female Music Leadership Iva Nenić (University of Arts in Belgrade)	15
Between Home and International Scenes. Sarah Ndagire's Way to World Music Linda Cimardi (Martin Luther University Halle-Wittenberg)	35
Plucking a Liberal Sound: Japanese Women's Resignification of Finnish Kantele in a Hobbyist Club Ying-Hsien Chen (University of Helsinki)	53
Female Balkan Romani Singers: Charting Innovative Performance Paths Carol Silverman (University of Oregon)	67
Assumptions of Normality: How Three Women with a Disability Changed the Face of Music Diane Kolin (York University, Toronto)	83
Female Leadership in Iranian-Arab Shi'a Rituals from Khorramshahr, South-western Iran Talieh Wartner-Attarzadeh (University of Music and Performing Arts, Graz)	99
God Has a Woman's Voice. Liturgical Music and Agency of Eastern European Migrant Women in Rome Blanche Lacoste (University Jean Monnet - Saint-Étienne)	111

Winds of Change? Gender Segregation in Music Education and Production in Italy Clementina Casula (University of Cagliari)	125
Introducing WMLON: The Women’s Musical Leadership Online Network Laura Hamer (The Open University), Helen Julia Minors (York St John University)	141
Women in Music: Possibilities and Responsibilities of Cultural Management and Policy Tatjana Nikolić (University of Arts in Belgrade), Katarina Mitić Minić (University of Arts in Belgrade)	153
Women’s Role in Sustaining the Practice of Tamburitza Instruments in Vojvodina Sanja Ranković (University of Arts in Belgrade)	167
Performing Trauma in Privileged Spaces: Empowering Turkish Women’s Voices of the Past Bahar Gjuka (University of Calgary)	181
Women’s Actions to Revitalize the Practice of Kaval Playing in Serbia Mirjana Zakić (University of Arts in Belgrade)	199
Female Leadership in Serbian Metal Music. Frontwomen at the Crossroads of Visibility, Genre and Voice Bojana Radovanović (Serbian Academy of Sciences and Arts, Belgrade)	213
Female Agency, Genres and Aesthetics of Sorrow in Persian Classical Music Nasim Ahmadian (University of Alberta)	225
“What Moves the World, Moves My Ass as Well”: Mimi Mercedez as an Anti-heroine of Postsocialist Serbia Adriana Sabo (Postgraduate School ZRC SAZU, Ljubljana)	239
Notes on Contributors	253