

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PART 1: FEMINIST HACKING AS ARTISTIC PRACTICE

Methodology
Building Circuits as an Artistic Practice	18
Feminist hacking	20
Agential cuts	21
Feminist new materialisms: (re)turns to matter	23
Considering human and non-human persons	26
Open technology culture: hacking/making	27
Who are the feminist hackers?	32
Feminist hacking roots	35
Autonomy and commoning	37
Care-full commoning	38
Art hacking practice	42
The project's theoretical backbone	44
Diffraction	45
Diffractive art hacking practices	47
Towards new materialist circuits	49
ICT commodity / supply chains and gender	50
Ethical hardware	52
Conflict materials	54
Our feminist hacking contributions
The feminist hardware kit – Clay PCB	56
Minimum standards for feminist hardware	60

PART 2:

ARTISTIC RESEARCH

SOS stands for Salon of Open Secrets*
Now what does that mean?	66
Acupuncture Sonification
My Fair Acupuncture Songs	78
Low-Tech Paper Pulp Lab	88
Coffee Table
Tablecloth Mz* Baltazar's Laboratory	96
Theoretical framework	101
Performance	101
Coffee Table workshop, Ljubljana	110
Mud-Group III: Who has land to make a fire?	112
Mud battery	124
Clay PCB	130
Ethical Hardware Kit	152

PART 3:

NETWORK OF CONTRIBUTING ALLIES

Citizen science workshops	166
Game	170
Interview excerpts	187
Feminist Hardware Festival	208
Conclusion: peaceful coexistence	228
Biographies	232
References	252