

Contents

---

Acknowledgements ..... 9

Introduction ..... 11

1. John Dewey's Theory of Education and the Pragmatist Method

    Learning and Teaching as the Experimental Practice of a Better Life .... 27

    1.1 Dewey's Theory of Education in its Cultural, Historical, and Philosophical Context ..... 29

    1.2 Form Follows Function — The Aims of Education ..... 43

        1.2.1 The Ethical Dimension of Education:
            Individual Self-Realization and Moral Democracy ..... 44

        1.2.2 The Agency Dimension:
            What Are Meaningful Goals of Education? ..... 47

    1.3 The Curriculum ..... 49

        1.3.1 Parsing the Complexity Continuum: Method and Subject Matter .... 51

        1.3.2 Occupations ..... 57

    1.4 From a Complicated Legacy to New Dialogue and Practice ..... 60

2. The Ecology of Education

    Claims of Globalization, Forms of Transnationalization, and Hopes of Cosmopolitanisms ..... 75

    2.1 A Beast of no Nation-State — Or: What is Globalization? ..... 76

    2.2 The Power of Glocality: Integrating the Global and the Local ..... 79

    2.3 A New Research Imagination as the Driver of Globalization from Below ..... 86

|           |                                                                      |            |
|-----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| 2.4       | Rooted Cosmopolitanism – Anchoring in a World of Flows .....         | 93         |
| 2.5       | Different Roots, Shared Meanings                                     |            |
|           | – How Higher Education Can “Sidle up to Difference”                  |            |
|           | and Create New Forms of Co-Learning Partnerships .....               | 99         |
| 2.5.1     | From the Outside in?                                                 |            |
|           | – Broadening and Diversifying the Experiential                       |            |
|           | Geography of Learning Through Study Abroad .....                     | 101        |
| 2.5.2     | From the Inside Out?                                                 |            |
|           | – Expanding and Diversifying the Internal Maps of Learning .....     | 114        |
| 2.5.2.1   | Emotions Drive Learning                                              |            |
|           | – Negotiating the Critical with the Affective .....                  | 115        |
| 2.5.2.2   | (Re-)Writing the Center—Or:                                          |            |
|           | How to Share Meaning with Intellectual Strangers? .....              | 121        |
| 3. | The Case of New York University                               |            |
|           | How Does a University in and of a City Become a University in        |            |
|           | and of the World? .....                                              | 127        |
| 3.1       | Function Follows Form? The Model of the Global Network               |            |
|           | University in Broad Strokes .....                                    | 130        |
| 3.2       | “No Island is an Island” — NYU (in) Abu Dhabi .....                  | 145        |
| 3.2.1     | The NYU Abu Dhabi Core Curriculum.....                               | 149        |
| 3.2.1.1   | Toward Cosmopolitan Occupations — Core Colloquia .....               | 156        |
| 3.2.1.2   | Toward Cosmopolitan Habits of Mind                                   |            |
|           | – Competency Courses .....                                           | 169        |
| 3.2.1.3   | Literacy Sponsorship Revisited                                       |            |
|           | – First Year Writing Seminars .....                                  | 172        |
| 3.2.1.4   | By Way of Summary — The Cosmopolitan                                 |            |
|           | Triangle of Content, Methodology, Sensibility .....                  | 173        |
| 3.3       | Deliberations at the Disjuncture — Looking Ahead .....               | 184        |
| 4. | Reimagining a New Core for U.S. Undergraduate Education ..... | 189 |
| 4.1       | Dignity .....                                                        | 195        |
| 4.2       | Belonging .....                                                      | 205        |
| 4.3       | Freedom and Unfreedom.....                                           | 216        |

Conclusion ..... 233

Works Cited ..... 245

