Preface

This work is based on my habilitation thesis which I completed at the University of Salzburg. The continuous and thorough exchange of thoughts on all kinds of aspects relating to this text with my then academic supervisor, Professor Stefan Griller, was particularly helpful in all phases of my work on it. For this support I would like to express my sincere gratitude. The text was awarded the Dr. Alois Mock-Wissenschaftspreis, for which I am thankful to the eponymous foundation.

The original thesis was updated, in part shortened, in part extended, but the structure essentially remained the same. These efforts were facilitated by the much-appreciated reviews submitted during the habilitation procedure and the review commissioned by the Austrian Science Fund FWF, which contained helpful instructions as to how to improve my arguments. My work on the thesis, and its revision respectively, was furthermore advanced by research visits at the Walter Hallstein-Institute for European Constitutional Law at the Humboldt University Berlin, at the Europa-Kolleg Hamburg and at the Amsterdam Centre for European Law and Governance at the University of Amsterdam. In this context, I would like to thank Professors Matthias Ruffert, Markus Kotzur, Andreas Grimm, and Christina Eckes.

I am also grateful to the editors of the series 'Contributions on Comparative Public Law and International Law', Professors Anne Peters and Armin von Bogdandy, for having accepted my text for publication. Moreover, I would like to pay tribute to the team of Nomos for their support during the process of transforming the typescript into a book.

Also the generous financial support for the publication of this book by the following institutions is to be acknowledged: the Austrian Science Fund FWF and the Publication Fund of the library of the University of Salzburg. Without this aid, the publication of this book would not have been feasible.
