The Future Competitiveness of the EU and Its Eastern Neighbours

September 1-2, 2006

Turku, Finland

The Pan-European Institute (PEI) of Turku School of Economics organises a high level conference "The Future Competitiveness of the EU and Its Eastern Neighbours" on September 1-2, 2006, at the Turku School of Economics. The conference aims at outlining the future development of the enlarging EU, especially in terms of competitiveness and the Union's relations to neighbouring countries. Conference speakers include e.g. Olli Rehn, Paula Lehtomäki, Anatoly Chubais, Tsvetan Manchev, Yegor Gaidar and Stefan Widomski (Nokia). The multidisciplinary conference invites both theoretical and empirical papers that may contribute to a broader understanding of the future of the European continent. All accepted conference papers will be included in the conference proceedings. The best papers will be published in a special conference publication, which will be disseminated worldwide to over 3000 recipients in more than 50 countries. Read about the suggested conference tracks and submission information from the conference website www.tukkk.fi/peiconference

Deadline for abstracts: April 15, 2006

Deadline for full papers: July 31, 2006
