ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

THIS BOOK IS the result of the postdoctoral project, “Female Monasticism in the Late Byzantine Period (1204–1453),” conducted in Athens from 2012 to 2015 at the National Hellenic Research Foundation, with financial support from the European Social Fund and the Hellenic State. After expanding the content and adding further material, it was finalized during the ENCHANT Project: Entangled Charters of Anatolia, 1200–1300 (PI: J. Preiser-Kapeller; funded by the Austrian Science Fund FWF P 36403-G).

I would like to express my gratitude to those who supported this endeavour. I am especially thankful to Eleonora Kountoura-Galake for her guidance and support as well as the fruitful discussions we had in Athens during the project. The exchange of ideas with colleagues at the Institute for Medieval Research (Austrian Academy of Sciences) and the Institute of Byzantine and Modern Greek Studies (University of Vienna) was also immensely helpful. The Faculty of Historical and Cultural Studies of the University of Vienna generously supported the publication of this book.

Throughout the long process of producing this volume, I had the constant support of the publishing house, for which I am deeply grateful.

Finally, I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to my husband, Johannes, to all my friends, and to my mother Vassiliki and my sister Helen for their unconditional love and support.

GUIDE FOR THE READER

Some clarifications are necessary regarding references, transliteration, and useful links.

For the spelling of Byzantine words in transliteration and the abbreviations of journal and series titles, we follow the ODB (1991). In the interest of standardization, I have transliterated most Greek technical terms and names of people and places according to the forms used in the ODB. Technical terms, such as modioi and hyperpyra, are italicized.

References and links to online prosopography databases like PmbZ and the PBW are provided in the footnotes or in the indices. All Diktyon and BHG numbers for manuscripts can be found in the relevant text or footnotes, while the PLP numbers are listed in the indices and the list of nuns. Modern names of cities and places will be provided in the index if not in the text.
