

Contents

Preface | 9

Introduction

Dagmar Gramshammer-Hohl & Oana Hergenröther (Graz) | 11

HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES

Old Age in the Balkans

Increasing Life Expectancy – Decreasing Regard

Karl Kaser (Graz) | 33

Co-Residence of Elderly Persons with Children and Grandchildren in Eastern and Southeast Europe

18th and 19th Centuries

Siegfried Gruber (Graz) | 51

“University Elders,” “Young Professors” and Students

A Generational Approach to the History of Higher Education in Russia in the Late 19th Century

Tatiana Saburova (Bloomington) | 71

Changes in Soviet Academia’s Age-Related Personnel Policies during the Cold War

Kirill Levinson (Moscow) | 91

QUALITATIVE AND QUANTITATIVE INQUIRIES

No Country for Old People

Ethnography of Traditional and Contemporary Conceptualizations of Old
Age in Rural North Macedonia

Ana Aštalkovska Gajtanoska & Ilina Jakimovska (Skopje) | 111

Meanings of Getting Old in Post-Transition Serbia

A Gender Perspective

Natalija Perišić & Nadežda Satarić (Belgrade) | 127

On Nearness and Distance

Seniors' Lives in Urban Areas in Slovakia

Ľubica Voľanská, Marcela Káčerová & Juraj Majo (Bratislava) | 149

The Use of Information and Communication Technologies in Family Communication

Dialogues with Grandmothers from Romania

Loredana Ivan (Bucharest) | 179

The Elderly in Russia

A Socio-Psychological Approach

Olga Krasnova (Moscow) | 207

LITERARY REPRESENTATIONS

Aging in Soviet Utopian and Dystopian Literature

Rafaela Božić (Zadar) | 235

Ageless, Vital, Immortal

Human Transformation in 20th-Century Russian
Science and Literature

Tatjana Petzer (Berlin/Halle) | 253

Noticing Signs and Stereotypes of Aging

Representations and Performance of Mind and Body in Tolstoj's War and Peace

Jane Gary Harris (Pittsburgh) | 271

Does Genre Matter?

The Role of Literary Genre and Narrator in Contemporary
Russian Caregivers' Narratives

Maija Könönen (Helsinki) | 291

Traumatic Aging in Borisav Stanković and Miloš Crnjanski

The Symptomatic Body in the Modern and Expressionist View on Soul and Society

Ingeborg Jandl (Vienna) | 311

The Dark Past of Family

Age Roles and Superstition in Southeast European Literature and Popular Culture

Natalia Stagi Škaro (Dubrovnik) | 335

The Hag and the Egg

Slavic Mythologies of Old Age as Reflected in Dubravka Ugrešić's Novel Baba Yaga Laid an Egg

Dagmar Gramshammer-Hohl (Graz) | 357

Commemorating Russia's Great Old Women

An Interview with Ludmila Ulitskaya

By Dagmar Gramshammer-Hohl | 371

Contributors | 379

