About the authors

Gianmaria Ajani is Professor of Comparative Law and Law & Art and past Rector at the University of Turin, Italy. He has published monographs and articles on Law & Arts, Legal Theory, Law and Language as well as Legal Reforms in post-Socialist Countries. He has taught EU Law at UC Berkeley and worked as expert and consultant for various international organisations such as the IMF, the EU Commission, the Council of Europe, the UNDP, the GIZ and the ILO. He served as an expert on legal reforms in PR of China, Russia, Albania, Kosovo and Vietnam. He is author of numerous articles for national and international journals and co-founder and co-editor of the journal "Brill Research Perspectives in Art and Law". Prof. Ajani was awarded an honorary doctorate from the University of Savoie (Chambéry). Moreover, he is Guest Professor at the Univerity of Bergen and Honorary Professor at the Shanghai Normal University and at the Zhonghan University of Economics and Law, Wuhan. Likewise, he was a Fellow at the Käte Hamburger Kolleg "Law as Culture" in Bonn. Major publications comprise: Contemporary Artificial Art and the Law – Searching for an Author, Brill Research Papers, Art and Law, 2019; Russian Liberalism and the Rule of Law – Notes from Underground, in R.M. Cucciolla (ed), Dimensions and Challenges of Russian Liberalism, Springer, 2019; Transplants, Legal Borrowings and Reception, in Encyclopedia of Law and Society (Gen. ed. D. Clark), New York, 2007, vol. 3; Law and Economic Reform in the Transition from Plan to Market, Int. Encycl. of Comparative Law, vol. XVI State and Economy, R. Buxbaum, F. Madl (ed), Mohr, Tübingen, 2006; Das Recht der Länder Osteuropas, Berliner Wissenschafts Verlag, 2005.

Tiziana Andina is Full Professor of Philosophy at the University of Turin, Italy (https://labont.it/people/tiziana-andina/). She is an expert in metaphysics and ontology with a specialization in social ontology. Since 2016, she has been the director of the research center, LabOnt – The Laboratory of Ontology at the University of Turin (www.labont.it). Her recent publications concern social ontology, transgenerational actions, relationship between generations and problems of social justice, fostering the interdisciplinary research between philosophy, social sciences and law. She is co-editor of the international journal Brill Research

Perspectives in Art and Law and since 2020, she is the editor of Rivista di Estetica. As fellow at the Columbia University (2008–2009), Käte Hamburger Kolleg, University of Bonn (2015), ITMO University, Russia (2014) and Saint Petersburg State University (2015 and 2016), University of Nanjing and University of Wuhan (2019), she started several international collaborations with leading institutions in the field of the social ontology, cultural studies, political philosophy and philosophy of law, making LabOnt one of the leading European centre in the field of social ontology. Among the most recent titles are: As editor, Bridging the Analytical Continental Divide. A Companion to Contemporary Western Philosophy, Brill 2014; Post-Truth, Philosophy and Law, Routledge, 2019; Institutions in Action: The Nature and the Role of Institutions in the Real World, Springer 2020; as author, An Ontology for Social Reality, Palgrave-Macmillan, 2016, What is Art? The Question of Definition Reloaded, Brill, 2017 and A Philosophy for Future Generations. The Structure and Dynamics of Transgenerationality, Bloomsbury Academic 2022.

Eva-Maria Bauer is a postdoctoral research assistant at the Center for Applied Legal Studies at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT). After her studies in Law and German Language and Literature in Freiburg, Hong Kong and Karlsruhe, she obtained her First Legal State Examination (2016) and her Ph.D. degree (2020) at the University of Freiburg and her Second Legal State Examination (2021) at the Higher Regional Court Karlsruhe. Her main research focus is on copyright and digital communication. Her major publication is Die Aneignung von Bildern – Eine urheberrechtliche Betrachtung von der Appropriation Art bis hin zu Memes (The Appropriation of Images – A Copyright View from Appropriation Art to Memes, Baden-Baden: Nomos 2020).

Davide Dal Sasso is Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Philosophy at the University of Turin, Italy. He holds two Masters' degrees (Philosophy and Art History) and was awarded his Ph.D. in Philosophy from the University of Turin in 2017. He is a member of Labont – Center for Ontology, and Curator of Dialoghi di Estetica (Dialogues of Aesthetics), the philosophy and art section of the magazine Artribune. His research focuses on the relationship between philosophy, aesthetics, and contemporary arts, with a particular focus on questions concerning conceptualism, expression and representation, and the role of practices in the arts. He is the editor of the new edition of Ermanno Migliorini, Conceptual Art (Mimesis 2014), the author of Nel segno dell'essenziale L'arte dopo il concettualismo (Rosenberg & Sellier 2020) and of The Ground Zero of the Arts: Rules, Processes, Forms (Brill 2021).

Thomas Dreier is Professor of Civil Law and Questions of the Information Society at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT). He is also Honorary Professor at the University of Freiburg, and Senior Fellow of the Käte Hamburger Center for Advanced Studies "Law as Culture" in Bonn, Germany. After his studies in law and art history in Bonn, Geneva and New York, he obtained an LL.M.-degree from New York University School of Law (1983) and his Ph.D. degree (1990) as well as his habilitation (2000) at the University of Munich. Before joining the KIT, he worked as Senior Researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Foreign and International Patent, Copyright and Competition law (now Max Planck Institute for Competition and Innovation) in Munich. His main research focus is on copyright and the regulation of images. He is Co-founder and Co-editor of the online open access Journal of Intellectual Property, Information Technology and Electronic Commerce Law (JIPITEC). He also is co-editor of the series of monographs Bild und Recht – Studien zur Regulierung des Visuellen (Image and Law – Studies on the Regulation of Images). Major publications include commentaries of the German Copyright Act, Dreier/Schulze, Urheberrecht, 7th ed., Munich: C.H.Beck 2022, and Dreier/Hugenholtz (eds), Concise European Copyright, 2nd edition, Alphen aan den Rijn: Wolters Kluwer 2016); Bild und Recht, Baden-Baden: Nomos 2018; Law and Images, Brill Research Papers, Art and Law 3.1, Leiden/Boston 2019; Dreier/Jehle (eds), Original, Kopie, Fälschung, Baden-Baden: Nomos 2020; Copyright – Urheberrecht versus Netzkultur, Berlin: Wagenbach 2022.

Johannes Eichenhofer is a private lecturer ("Privatdozent"), currently representing the Chair for Public Law at the law faculty of the University of Bielefeld, Germany. His research and teaching activities focus mainly on fundamental and human rights, especially in the areas of migration and integration, as well as privacy and data protection. He studied law at the Freie Universität Berlin and the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin, as well as at the Università degli Studi di Siena (Italy). After obtaining his First Legal States Exam from in Berlin (2009), he wrote his dissertation on the Concept and Conception on Integration in the German Integration Act, which was published in 2013 by Nomos. In 2013, he also completed his legal Clerkship (2011–2013) at the Higher Regional Court in Berlin. From 2014–2019 he was as a postdoctoral fellow at the University of Bielefeld, where he was mainly involved in an interdisciplinary research project on the "Strukturwandel des Privaten" ("Transformation of Privacy"). In May 2020, he habilitated at the University of Bielefeld with the thesis E-Privacy – theoretical and doctrinal foundations of a European privacy protection, Tübingen: Mohr Siebeck 2021. In the winter term 2019/20 he represented the Chair of Public Law and Legal Philosophy at the Albert-Ludwigs-University in Freiburg. Following, until the winter term 2020/21 he was affiliated with the Institute of Information and Economic Law at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT).

Maurizio Ferraris is Full Professor of Philosophy and he is the President of the LabOnt – Center for Ontology and Deputy Rector for Humanities Research at the University of Turin. He is columnist for "La Repubblica", for "Neue Zürcher Zeitung", and for "Libération". He is also the director of "Scienza Nuova", an institute of advanced studies – dedicated to Umberto Eco and uniting the University and the Polytechnic of Turin – aimed at planning a sustainable future, both from a cultural and from a political point of view. He wrote more than sixty books that have been translated into several languages. The last one is Documanità. Filosofia del mondo nuovo (Laterza 2021).

Christophe Geiger is Professor of Law at Luiss Guido Carli University, Rome. Previously, he taught at the Centre for International Intellectual Property Studies (CEIPI) of the University of Strasbourg (France), which he leaded as Director General and Director of the Research Department for 11 years. In addition, he is an affiliated senior researcher at the Max Planck Institute for Innovation and Competition in Munich (Germany), as well as Spangenberg Fellow at the Spangenberg Center for Law, Technology & the Arts, Case Western Reserve University School of Law in Cleveland (US). He specializes in national, European, international and comparative intellectual property (IP) law, acts as external expert for the European Parliament and the European Union Intellectual Property Office (EUIPO), has drafted reports on IP for the European and international institutions and taught as visiting professor in several universities. In 2019, he has been elected President of ATRIP, the International Association for the Advancement of Teaching and Research in Intellectual Property (2022–2024). He has published numerous articles as well as authored and edited many volumes in this field, such as Criminal Enforcement of Intellectual Property: A Handbook of Contemporary Research (2012), Constructing European Intellectual Property: Achievements and New Perspectives (2013), Research Handbook on Human Rights and Intellectual Property (2015), Intellectual Property and the Judiciary (with Craig Nard and Xavier Seuba, 2018), Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Investment Law (2020), with Edward Elgar Publishing; What Patent Law for the European Union? (2013), The Contribution of Case Law to the Construction of Intellectual Property in Europe (2013, in French); Intellectual Property Law in a Globalized World (with Caroline Rodà, 2014), The Intellectual Property System in a Time of Change: European and International Perspectives (2016), Trade-Related International Intellectual Property Law: The TRIPS Agreement, Assessment and Perspectives (2017, in French), Computer-Implemented Inventions: Issues, Practices and Perspectives (with Matthieu Dhenne, 2019, French/English) with LexisNexis; and Penser le droit de la pensée: Mélanges in honor of Michel Vivant (with J.-M. Bruguière, 2020), with Dalloz.

Werner Gephart is Senior Professor at the faculty of sociology at the University of Bonn, Germany. Besides being a legal scholar, sociologist he also is an artist. In 2014, alongside with German artist Amselm Kiefer, he was awarded an honorary doctorate in Philosophy by the University of Turin. In 2021–2022 he is Senior Fellow of the the Institut Michel Villey pour la culture du juridique et la philosophie du droit at the University of Paris II (Panthéon-Assas). Prof. Gephart is Founding Director and currently co-directing the Käte Hamburger Center for Advanced Study in the Humanities "Law as Culture", in Bonn. He has held numerous visiting professorships, among others the Fulbright Distinguished Chair for German Studies at Washington University, St. Louis, a visiting professorship at the IDC (Herzlyia, Israel), numerous invitations as professor in Tunis, as well as the Chaire Alfred Grosser at SciencesPo, Paris. In 2019 he was appointed as President of the Jury Senior of the Institut Universitaire de France (IUF). He is the editor of the series "Law as Culture" (25 vol.) and co-editor of the volume "Recht" ("Law"), which is part of the Max Weber Gesamtausgabe (MWG I/22–3). His further publications are centered on the cultural analysis of law (Recht als Kultur, Klostermann 2006), the sociology of religion (Religion und Identität, 1998), and aesthetics (Law and the arts 2016). In addition, he is co-editor of the international journal Art and Law, Brill Research Perspectives in Art and Law. – As an artist he has held numerous exhibits in cities including Paris, Düsseldorf, Cologne, Bonn, St. Louis, Houston, Bloomington, Minneapolis, Tunis, New Delhi, and London. From 2016 to 2017, Werner Gephart was honorary artist at the Dickson Poon School of Law during his exhibition Some Colours of the Law at King's College in London (Somerset House).

Olivia Hägle is a Ph.D. student at the Albert-Ludwigs University of Freiburg and a research assistant at the Institute of Information and Economic Law of the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT), Germany. After her High School graduation, she studied law at the University of Freiburg (2014–2019) with a focus on Intellectual Property Law and Chinese Law. In October 2019 she has joined Professor Dreier at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) and is writing her Ph.D. thesis on Deep Fakes in the context of Information Law. Since 2021 she has been collaborating with researchers of other KIT Institutes in a project on interdisciplinary approaches to deep fakes. Her main research focus is on Information Law, including Copyright Law and personal rights.

Wybo Houkes is Professor of Philosophy of Science and Technology at the Department of Industrial Engineering & Innovation Sciences of the Technical University Eindhoven (TU/e). After studying theoretical physics and philosophy in Amsterdam and Leiden, he defended a Ph.D. thesis on Kantianism in early 20th century philosophy at the University of Leiden (2000). Until 2004, he was a post-doctoral researcher in the program "The Dual Nature of Technical Artefacts" funded by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research (NWO). In 2008, he was awarded a Vidi fellowship for a project on evolutionary theories of technology. His research interests include technical artifacts and their functions; cultural-evolutionary models of technology; scientific modelling; and the interrelations between technology, individual users and societal practices. He (co-)authored Houkes/Vermaas, Technical Functions (Dordrecht: Springer, 2010), and articles in peer-reviewed journals such as The British Journal for the Philosophy of Science, Design Studies, The Monist, Philosophy of Science, Research Policy, Studies in History and Philosophy of Science and Synthese.

Lisa Käde is a postdoctoral research assistant at the Center for Applied Legal Studies at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT). She studied law in Freiburg and Ottawa as well as business IT (B.Sc., B.A. (hons.)) at the Baden-Wuerttemberg State University of Co-operative Education (DHBW) Stuttgart. Her Ph.D. thesis Kreative Maschinen und Urheberrecht – Die Machine Learning-Werkschöpfungskette vom Training über Modellschutz bis zu Computational Creativity, published in 2021 with Nomos focuses on artificial intelligence and machine learning in the context of computational creativity and copyright. She has been a regular contributor to ifrOSS (Institute for Legal Issues of Free and Open Source Software) since 2012. She has been using her experience as a passionate web developer to join the legal tech community in several hackathons. Recent publications included research on explainable artificial intelligence (Computer und Recht 2020) and machine learning model manipulation (Zeitschrift zum Innovations- und Technikrecht 2020).

Massimo Leone is Full Tenured Professor ("Professore Ordinario") of Philosophy of Communication and Cultural Semiotics at the Department of Philosophy and Educational Sciences, University of Turin, Italy, Permanent Part-Time Visiting Full Professor of Semiotics in the Department of Chinese Language and Literature, University of Shanghai, China, and Associate Member of Cambridge Digital Humanities, University of Cambridge, as well as Director of the Bruno Kessler Foundation, Trento. He is a 2018 ERC Consolidator Grant recipient. He graduated in Communication Studies from the University of Siena and holds a DEA in History and Semiotics of Texts and Documents from Paris VII, an MPhil in Word and Image Studies from Trinity College Dublin, a Ph.D. in Religious Studies from the Sorbonne, and a Ph.D. in Art History from the University of Fribourg (CH). He has been visiting professor in several universities and research centres around the globe. His work focuses on the semiotic study of cultures, with particular emphasis on religion and images; his ERC project bears on the meaning of the face in the digital era. Massimo Leone has single-authored fifteen books, (Religious Conversion and Identity: The Semiotic Analysis of Texts, London and New York: Routledge, 2004; Saints and Signs: A Semiotic Reading of Conversion in Early Modern Catholicism, Berlin and New York: Walter de Gruyter, 2010; On Insignificance, London and New York: Routledge, 2019; etc.), edited forty collective volumes, and published more than five hundred peer-reviewed articles in semiotics, visual studies, and religious studies. He is the chief editor of Semiotica (De Gruyter), the chief semiotics journal in the world, and of the SCOPUS journal Lexia, and editor of the book series I Saggi di Lexia (Rome: Aracne), Routledge/FACETS Advances in Face Studies and Semiotics of Religion (Berlin and Boston: Walter de Gruyter).

Lorenz Müller-Tamm is a Ph.D. candidate in legal studies at the Albrecht-Ludwig University in Freiburg, Germany. The topic of his doctoral thesis is on the legal issues of street photography. After studying law at the Humboldt-University in Berlin and at the Queen Mary University in London, he joined the law firm Noerr as a research assistant in the IP/IT department. His main research areas include the regulation of images, data protection law and copyright law.

Eberhard Ortland is Research Associate in the Collaborative Research Centre 1385 "Law and Literature" at the University of Münster (WWU) and coordinator of the Encyclopedia of Law and Literature. He has studied philosophy, art history and German literature in Bochum, Berlin and Kyoto, obtained an M.A. from FU Berlin (1993) and a Dr. phil.

from the University of Potsdam (2002). He taught philosophy at the Universities of Hildesheim, Münster and Magdeburg and worked as scientific coordinator for a research group on the Ethics of Copying at the Institute for Advanced Study, Center for Interdisciplinary Research in Bielefeld. He is the editor of Theodor W. Adorno's Lectures on Aesthetics (2009; English translation 2018; French translation 2021) and the author of numerous articles on aesthetics, ethics, and copyright law; most recently (in English): "A Moral Need for Censorship, Access Restrictions, and Surveillance? The Ethics of Copying and the Freedom of Communication", Annual Review of Law and Ethics 26 (2018); "Copies of Famous Pictures in Tadao Andō's 'Garden of Fine Art' in Kyōto", in: C. Forberg/Ph. Stockhammer (eds), The Transformative Power of the Copy. Heidelberg 2017; "Blurred Lines: A Case Study on the Ethics and Aesthetics of Copying", in: D. H. Hick/R. Schmücker (eds): The Aesthetics and Ethics of Copying (London/New York: Bloomsbury 2016).

Benjamin Raue is Dean of the Law Faculty and Professor of Private Law, Law of the Information Society and Intellectual Property Law at the University of Trier, as well as Director of the Institute for Digital Law Trier (IRDT). After studying law in Hamburg and Bordeaux, he obtained his Ph.D. degree in 2010 (Nachahmungsfreiheit nach Ablauf des Immaterialgüterrechtsschutzes?, Göttingen: V&R unipress 2010) and his habilitation in 2015 (Die dreifache Schadensberechnung, Baden-Baden: Nomos 2017), both from Christian-Albrechts-University of Kiel. Prof. Dr. Raue has clerked at the Higher Regional Court of Hamburg, the German Federal Ministry of Justice, and law firms specializing in intellectual property (2009–2011). Prof. Dr. Raue practiced law at an intellectual property and media law boutique in Hamburg (2011–2012). After his habilitation and before joining the University of Trier in 2016, he acted as temporary professor at the Chair of Civil Law, Trade, Business & Corporate Law at Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) from 2015–2016. His main research focus is on the consequences of digitalisation on law, especially on copyright and IT law. He is co-founder and co-editor of the open access journal Recht und Zugang (Law and Access, RuZ).

Cosetta Saba is professor of Film Analysis and Audiovisual Practices in Media Art at the University of Udine where she is vice-coordinator of Ph.D. in "Storia dell'Arte, Cinema, Media Audiovisivi e Musica". She is member of the Scientific Committee of International Network for the Conservation of Contemporary Art – INCCA Italy and also of the Italian Group of International Institute for Conservation. Her main research interests focus on the languages of art in all its forms and audiovisual manifestations, and on the archiving and preservation models of videos, films and installations. She has published studies dedicated to the analysis of the relationships between cinema, video and art, including Unstable Cinema. Film and Contemporary Visual Arts (2007), Art in Videotape. Art / tapes / 22, ASAC collection – La Biennale di Venezia (2007), MATTHEW BARNEY. Polimorfismo, multimodalità, neobarocco (with Nicola Dusi, 2012), Preserving and Exhibiting Media Art: Challenges and Perspectives (with Julia Noordegraaf, Barbara Le Maître, Vinzenz Hediger, 2013); Cinéma: immersivité, surface, exposition (with Francesco Federici, 2013), Archivio Cinema Arte (2013), Carmelo Bene. Cinema, arti visive, happening, teatro (2019).

Reinold Schmücker is Professor of Philosophy at the University of Münster, working on fundamental problems in aesthetics, ethics, and political philosophy. After his studies in philosophy, German literature, and theology in Tübingen and Hamburg, he obtained his Ph.D. degree (1997) from the University of Hamburg. Before joining the University of Münster (2009), he has been an assistant professor of philosophy at the University of Hamburg (1997–2004) and served as founding executive secretary of the Alfried Krupp Wissenschaftskolleg Greifswald (2004–2009), an institute of advanced study. In 2015–16, he was a principal investigator and convenor of the research group The Ethics of Copying at the Center for Interdisciplinary Research (ZiF) in Bielefeld (Germany). In his recent research, he has been particularly interested in the philosophy of artifacts, meta-ethics and applied ethics. As well as numerous articles he has authored Was ist Kunst? Eine Grundlegung [What Is Art? A Groundwork] (1998, rev. ed. 2014) and Gibt es einen gerechten Krieg? [Is There a Just War?] (2021). His (co-)edited books and special issues include Kunst und Kunstbegriff [Art and the Concept of Art] (2002, 4th ed. 2017), Identität und Existenz. Studien zur Ontologie der Kunst [Identity and Existence. Studies in the Ontology of Art] (2003, 4th ed. 2014), Aesthetics and Ethics of Copying (2016, Paperback ed. 2017), Law and Ethics of Copying (2018).

Enrico Terrone is Associate Professor of Aesthetics at Università di Genova. He received a degree in Electronic Engineering from the Politecnico di Torino and then a Ph.D. in Philosophy from the Università di Torino. He was visiting researcher at Institut Jean Nicod in Paris, and Juan de la Cierva Postdoctoral Fellow at LOGOS Research Group, Universitat de Barcelona. He works on philosophical issues concerning fiction and depiction. His primary area of research is philosophy of film. He published papers in international journals such as The British Journal of Aesthetics, The Journal of Aesthetics and Art Criticism, Erkenntnis, Ergo, The Monist, Dialectica. His last book, co-authored with Luca Bandirali, is Concept TV – An Aesthetics of Television Series (2021).

425

Wolfgang Ullrich is cultural scientist and freelance author in Leipzig. From 1986 he studied philosophy, art history, logic/science theory and German language and literature in Munich. He obtained his Master's degree in 1991 with a thesis on Richard Rorty, and his dissertation in 1994 on the late work of Martin Heidegger. Afterwards, he undertook freelance work as an author, lecturer, and consultant. From 1997 to 2003 he was the assistant professor at the Academy of Fine Arts in Munich, and then held guest professorships at the Hochschule für Bildende Künste in Hamburg and at the University of Arts and Design in Karlsruhe. From 2006 to 2015 he was a professor of art history and media theory at the University of Arts and Design in Karlsruhe. His research areas are the history and critique of the concept of art, the sociology of images, digital imagery, and consumer theory. Major publications of the last years: Siegerkunst. Neuer Adel, teure Lust, Berlin: Wagenbach 2016; Der kreative Mensch. Streit um eine Idee, Salzburg: Residenz 2016; Wahre Meisterwerte. Stilkritik einer neuen Bekenntniskultur, Berlin: Wagenbach 2018; Selfies. Die Rückkehr des öffentlichen Lebens, Berlin: Wagenbach 2019; Feindbild werden. Ein Bericht, Berlin: Wagenbach 2020; Die Kunst nach dem Ende ihrer Autonomie, Berlin: Wagenbach 2022.

The links listed in the contributions of this book have last been accessed on 6 April 2022.