

Content

Acknowledgements	7
Opening remarks by the Robert Bosch Foundation	10
Preface	13
Part 1
The Dementia-Friendly Community – A Daring Venture
Reimer Gronemeyer	17
1. Dementia – the major issue	20
2. Dementia-friendly communities: how did it start?	27
3. The humus of the community – premises for a dementia-friendly community	34
4. Dementia shines a light on it: on the way to a new conviviality	36
Part 2
People in the community living with dementia – the programme
Verena Rothe	43
1. Paving the way to dementia-friendly communities?	43
1.1 Re-imagining communities	43
1.2 The programme – a complex endeavour	44
1.3 Selecting the projects	46
1.4 The target group	47
1.5 Evaluation – helpful impulses for others	48
1.6 Experiences make a difference!	50
1.7 Diversity as a guiding principle	51
1.8 The wealth of ideas	56
2. Topics and activities	58
2.1 Art and culture as keys that open doors	58
2.2 Church and religion – a community for all?	71
2.3 Children and teenagers – looking to the present and the future	79
2.4 Physical activity and sports – you snooze, you lose?	90

3.	Chosen methods and achieved effects	99
3.1	Together instead of alone?	99
3.2	Symbolic action and raising public awareness	110
3.3	Enabling networking – inspiring ideas	118
3.4	Migration and cultural sensitivity	122
4.	Common topics and exchanging experiences	127
4.1	People with dementia and their friends and families	127
4.2	Illness and medical care	153
4.3	Between exchange of experiences and competition	163
4.4	Dementia concerns us all!	165
4.5	The media – ‘If they don’t report it, it doesn’t exist’?	187
4.6	Local government – possibilities and limits	193
4.7	Volunteering and social involvement in the community	208
5.	Conclusion	219
5.1	Looking back	219
5.2	The here and now	227
5.3	The dementia-friendly community spelled out	230
5.4	Looking ahead at what will be	231

Part 3

Between Reflection and concrete Action

Gabriele Kreutzner	241
---------------------------	-----

1.	Aktion Demenz – how far have we come?	241
1.1	Perspectives and positions	243
1.2	The first steps: interconnections	245
1.3	‘Aufbruch!’ (‘New Beginning’), Esslingen am Neckar [2008]	249
1.4	And that’s how it went on	254
1.5	Sensitization in the initial phase of Aktion Demenz: an interim reflection	259
1.6	Sensitization as media attention: dementia in the German media	262
2.	Towards a different way of looking after?	269
2.1	Provision – concern – care: first steps towards clarifying concepts	269
2.2	On the reinvention of neighborhood interactions – an exploration	275

Funded Projects	283
------------------------	-----