

Contents

Abstract	7
Résumé	9
Acknowledgements	11
List of Figures	13
1. INTRODUCTION	15
Vignette 1: AfroEuropeans conference, July 2019	15
Vignette 2: On life-story sharing at the AfroEuropeans conference, Lisbon, July 2019	17
Problem statement and research questions	18
Life-stories and anthropology: Between method and object of study	26
Analytical approaches	41
Outline of chapters	60

PART I: DIASPORIC GENERATIONS

2. A history of African diaspora in Germany	67
The beginning and end of the first African diaspora (1880–1945)	67
African diaspora in West and East Germany (1945–1980)	76
3. Growing up in Frankfurt	91
Aminata Camara and Maya B. – Inspired by Black America	96
Lafia T. – Growing up in a white and female world	106
4. Family affairs – an intergenerational approach to diaspora	117
Lamine Camara – Aminata's father	118
Forging a Black political consciousness and a West African identity	124

5. Racism and its intersection with class and gender	133
Learning to deal with it – racism and racialisation as part of the everyday	133
The eternal guest?	138

Conclusion to Part I	147
-----------------------------	-----

PART II: DIASPORIC TRAVEL

6. Maya B.: Building Afrodiasporic identity through travel	153
Travelling in Afroeuropa	153
Imagining Nigeria 2018	159

7. Lafia T.: The long journey to her father's land	169
Awakening interest in Senegal as a young adult	170
Roots travel to Senegal – May 2018	174

8. Aminata Camara: Negotiating privilege, kinship and care in diasporic travel	185
Forging kinship in Ghana – the importance of trust and care	186
Acting respectable – caring and gendered division of labour	193

Conclusion to Part II	199
------------------------------	-----

PART III: DIASPORIC ACTIVISM

9. Life storytelling as Black and feminist political practice	205
Origins and themes of life stories in Black movements	206
The Afro-German movement in the 1980s	208

10. Oxana Chi and Layla Zami: Connecting to global Blackness on the move	219
Life stories in the lives and works of two artist-activists	223
Practising community digitally and in mobility	228

Conclusion to Part III	237
-------------------------------	-----

CONCLUSION	241
-------------------	-----

Epilogue	251
-----------------	-----

Bibliography	255
---------------------	-----