

Acknowledgements

We are most grateful to a diverse group of scholars from the fields of political science and anthropology as well as theology, Islamic studies, and religious studies who accepted our invitation to contribute to our interdisciplinary network. We enjoyed our conversations at the authors' workshop in Mariastein in June 2023 as well as the collaborative work on our texts. The interdisciplinary cooperation has expanded our approach to the topic of conviviality tremendously.

We are especially grateful to those scholars who contributed to this volume: Arlinda Amiti, Eva Baumann-Neuhaus, Hansjörg Dilger, İnci Dirim, Claudia Jahnel, Mehmet T. Kalender, Omar Kasmani, Anna Körs, Dominik Mattes, Paul Mecheril, Alexander-Kenneth Nagel, Dorottya Nagy, Paolo Naso, Silke Radosh-Hinder, Matthew Ryan Robinson, Rafael Walthert.

We thank the Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF) for their generous financial support. It enabled us to publish this collection as an open access publication with transcript Verlag. This volume represents an important part of our larger research project Conviviality in Motion. Exploring Practices and Theologies in Multiethnic Christian Congregations in Europe (CiM-project). This project has also been funded by the SNSF from 2020–2024 (100015_192445). It allowed us to work together in an intense collaborative fashion.

We are grateful to Katherine Kunz for her incredibly thorough reading and correction of our texts. We extend our gratitude to Leila Thöni and Jean-Luc Walker for their attentive reading as well. Leila Thöni accompanied this volume from the very beginning and made a great effort regarding the layout of the book.

We thank Johanna Tönsing and Luisa Bott from transcript Verlag for their support during the editing process. We also thank the peer reviewer.

Last but not least, we want to thank our fellow colleagues in the CiM-project: Tabea Rebekka Eugster-Schaetzle, Luca Ghiretti, and Esther Maria Meyer. It is wonderful to be on a journey of convivial scholarship together.
