

Contents

1. Operational Realism	9
Vertiginous Configurations of World	9
Encountering Realism Ethnographically	12
True and False	15
Aspects of the History and Anthropology of Knowledge	20
An Attempt at Impartial Observation	25
2. A Simulative Relationship with Nature	33
Histograms in the Projector-Sky	33
The Nature of the Smallest: Quantum Mechanics	38
Against the Doxa	44
3. The New Quantum Physics: With Computers
But Without First Principles!	49
Media of Classical Physics	49
The Double Slit: Interference instead of Event	56
Enter CS: A Question of Thought Style	65
A Play of Blind Spots	75
Simulation as Theory	80

4. Sense and Scepticism	83
Keeping Composure in Difficult Times	83
Crises, Turbulence, Consensus-making	87
Danger Recognized—Danger Averted	98
Bibliography	105
Table of Images	117
Notes	119