

Contents

Acknowledgements	11
Introduction: A Political Remembering of Bodies	13
Thinking the Body	16
Modes of Politics and Chapter Outline	21
References	28
Chapter 1. Embodied Representation: Performances of Identity	35
1.1 Delegates and Trustees: Acting for Others	39
1.2 Descriptive Representation: Standing for Others	41
1.3 Constitutive Representation: Performing for Others	42
1.4 Bodies of Representation	45
1.5 "I am what you call a hooligan"	47
1.6 "Mother of the Nation"	51
1.7 Strange Democracy	54
References	55
Chapter 2. Embodied Deliberation: Conditions, Excesses, Disruptions,
Opportunities	61
2.1 Disembodied Deliberation	63
2.2 Bodies Matter: Conditions	67
2.3 Bodies Matter: Excesses	70
2.4 Bodies Matter: Disruptions	72
2.5 Bodies Matter: Opportunities	75

2.6	Bodies of Deliberation	77
2.7	Beyond Deliberation	78
	References	79
Chapter 3. Embodied Disagreement: The Agony of Others		85
3.1	Us and Them	89
3.2	Habits of Us	91
3.3	Bodies of Others	96
3.4	Cultivating Agonistic Respect	99
3.5	Democratic Disagreements	101
	References	102
Chapter 4. Embodied Protest: The Politics of the Hunger-Strike		107
4.1	Hunger as protest	110
4.2	Irish republicans	111
4.3	Suffragettes	116
4.4	Anti-apartheid	120
4.5	The spectacular body	122
4.6	The identifying/identified body	124
4.7	The dissenting body	127
4.8	Hunger and Paradox	129
	References	130
Chapter 5. Embodied Occupation: Disciplined Bodies in Counter-Conduct ..		137
5.1	Conducting and Countering	139
5.2	Twyford Down	143
5.3	Dimensions of Occupying Bodies at Twyford Down	145
5.3.1	Surplus Meaning	145
5.3.2	Politicisation of Place	146
5.3.3	Circulation of Emotions	148
5.3.4	Identity Construction	149
5.3.5	(Re)Disciplining	151
5.4	Roads to Resistance	152
	References	154

Chapter 6. Embodied Counsel: Bodies of Knowledge	157
6.1 Scientific Knowledge	160
6.2 Knowledge of Bodies	164
6.3 Bodies of Knowledge	168
6.4 Expertise and Democracy	172
References	174
Conclusion: Recalling Bodies	179
References	183

For Kester and Alex

