

About the authors

Béla Galgoczi is a Senior Researcher at the European Trade Union Institute, Brussels, and Editor of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe.

Ela Golemi is an elected member of the Supervisory Council; of the Bank of Albania and a Lecturer at 'Aleksander Moisiu' university, Durrës, Albania, where she teaches courses on micro- and macroeconomics. She is currently pursuing doctoral studies in economics at the European University of Tirana.

Grigor Gradev is Executive Secretary of the Pan-European Regional Council of the International Trade Union Confederation and a Senior Researcher at the European Trade Union Institute, Brussels.

Andrej Hevesi is an assistant in the Department of Foreign Languages and Communication of the Faculty of Economics, J. Selye University in Komárno. His main research interests include: economics, management and communications. e-mail: hevesie@selyeuni.sk.

Emre Eren Korkmaz is a PhD candidate on the International Relations doctorate programme of the Faculty of Political Sciences of the University of Istanbul, and is also Director of Organisation and International Relations of Tekstil, the textile workers trade union, which is affiliated to the Confederation of Progressive Trade Unions of Turkey (DİSK). e-mail: emreerenkorkmaz@gmail.com.

Eduart Lika is a PhD candidate researching the economy and sustainable development at the European University of Tiranë, Albania. He is also an independent practitioner at Aksioner International Securities Brokerage, an American-owned joint stock company in Tirana. e-mail: eduartlika@gmail.com

Ladislav Mura PhD is Assistant Professor in the Department of Public Politics and Public Administration of the Faculty of Social Sciences, University of SS. Cyril and Methodius in Trnava. His main research interests include: business economics, small and medium enterprises and statistics. e-mail: ladislav.mura@gmail.com.

Renáta Machová PhD is Assistant Professor in the Department of Management and Vice-Dean of the Faculty of Economics of J. Selye University, in Komárno. Her main research interests include: human resource management and the labour market. e-mail: machovar@selyeuni.sk.

Aleksandar Nikolovski PhD is Rector of FON University, Skopje, Republic of Macedonia as well as a Professor in the University's Faculty of Law. e-mail: aleksandar.nikolovski@fon.edu.mk

About the authors

Andrea Olšovská PhD is Assistant Lecturer in labour law at the Faculty of Law of Trnava University. She is also a lawyer specialising in labour law issues and a chair at the Labour Law Association. Her research themes concentrate chiefly on the field of individual labour law relations, agency work and the secondment of workers. e-mail: aolsovska@gmail.com.

Nada Petrusheva PhD is Associate Professor in the Faculty of Economics, FON University, Skopje, Republic of Macedonia. e-mail: natka.petrusheva@fon.edu.mk

Enisa Salimović is Team Co-ordinator and legal adviser at the South-East European Office of the International Trade Union Confederation, Sarajevo.

Bruno S. Sergi is Professor at the University of Messina, Italy. He is also a member of the Editorial Board of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe.

Marek Švec PhD is Head of the Division of Economics, Collective Bargaining and Legislation of the Metalworkers' Federation KOVO. He is also a Lecturer in the Faculty of Social Sciences, University of SS. Cyril and Methodius, in Trnava and is Secretary-General of the Labour Law Association. His research focuses on collective labour law relations, trade unions and collective bargaining. e-mail: svec@ozkovo.sk.