

Katharina Geis
Online Museum Collections and Social Media

Katharina Geis (Dr. phil), born in 1992, is a cultural anthropologist and museologist specializing in digital museum practices, with a particular focus on online collection databases. She studied museum studies, European ethnology, and English and American studies at Julius-Maximilians-Universität Würzburg and Newcastle University. She completed her doctorate at Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin within the DFG-funded project “Curating Digital Images: Ethnographic Perspectives on the Affordances of Digital Images in Heritage and Museum Contexts”. Her research examines the impact of digital infrastructures on museum practices and public engagement with cultural heritage.
