

Contents

Acknowledgement 9

List of Abbreviations 11

1. INTRODUCTION 13

1.1 Motivation and personal interest 13

1.2 Research objectives and questions 14

1.3 Current relevance 14

1.4 The structure and content of the book 15

2. THEORETICAL INVESTIGATION 21

2.1 Introduction to the theoretical investigation 21

2.2 Discourse analysis 22

2.2.1 The notion of discourse and discourse categories 22

2.2.2 Discourse and discourse analysis in social sciences:
Foucault and Pêcheux 25

2.2.3 Discourse and discourse analysis (DA) in linguistics 27

2.2.4 The main approach: Computer-Mediated Discourse Analysis
(CMDA) 31

2.2.5 Additional approaches 34

2.3 Discourse community (DC) 38

2.3.1 Definition 38

2.3.2 Related notions 42

2.3.3 Discourse community feat. online/virtual community =
online/virtual discourse community 47

2.4 Research on electronic dance music 48

2.4.1 Struggle with definitions:
electronic music vs. electronic dance music 48

2.4.2	A short history of electronic- and electronic dance music	52
2.4.3	Research interests in Electronic Dance Music Cultures (EDMCs)	59
2.5	Conceptualisation and characteristics of the discourse community of electronic dance music	69
2.5.1	Musical discourse analysis	69
2.5.2	Parent discourse community, discourse communities and sub-discourse communities	70
2.5.3	The discourse community of electronic dance music in terms of Swales's conceptualisation	72
2.5.4	Swales's central notion: genre	76
2.5.5	Internet genres	78
2.6	Questions of identity	81
2.6.1	Discourse and identity	81
2.6.2	Music-related identities	85
2.6.3	Music-related identities in discourse	86
3.	RESEARCH AIMS AND QUESTIONS	89
4.	METHODS	91
4.1	Main framework: Computer-mediated discourse analysis	91
4.2	Analytical methods on the four domains of language	95
4.2.1	Structure and meaning	95
4.2.2	Interaction management	96
4.2.3	Social phenomena	97
5.	ANALYSIS	99
5.1	Foreword to the analysis	99
5.1.1	Corpus from Web 2.0 environment	99
5.1.2	The language sample and its ethical questions	102
5.1.3	Coding categories	103
5.2	Linguistic analysis	106
5.2.1	Web discussion forums	107
5.2.2	"Classic" websites	127
5.2.3	Facebook Groups	139
5.2.4	Blogs	161
6.	SUMMARY OF ANALYSIS AND RESEARCH FINDINGS	167

7. FINAL CONCLUSIONS AND FUTURE CONSIDERATIONS 175

7.1 A brief summary on the structure of the book 175

7.2 Conclusions 177

7.3 Importance of this research and new findings 178

7.4 Recommendations for future research 180

7.5 "Outro" 181

8. REFERENCES 183

9. SOURCES OF LINGUISTIC DATA 207

ATTACHMENTS

Attachment 1: Used coding categories of the analysis – a general table 213

Attachment 2: Orientation of linguistic data in WATMMF 217

Attachment 3: The language samples in Herring’s faceted classification scheme . 219

