

Contents

---

Introduction .....	9
Opening up anonymity .....	12
Changing donor conception .....	14
Empirical basis and comparative angle .....	17
Overview of the book's chapters .....	19
1. Contextualising donor conception and anonymity .....	23
1.1 Regulating donor conception .....	24
1.2 'Identifying' current research practices and themes .....	34
1.3 Situating anonymity .....	42
1.4 Knowing kinship .....	49
2. Research and analysis .....	57
2.1 Sample composition and (re)negotiating anonymity .....	58
2.2 Online recruitment for offline research .....	65
2.3 Overview of data collection .....	69
2.4 Analysis, writing and representation .....	73
3. The right to know .....
Arguments, histories, debates .....	79
3.1 International human rights law and the right to know .....	80
3.2 (Inter)national law, private lives and the need for information in the UK .....	88
3.3 From maintenance claims to personality rights: The German debate .....	92
3.4 Moving away from secrecy and anonymity: Lessons learnt from adoption .....	97
3.5 When you just want to know: Anonymity and the right to make a choice .....	102
3.6 The right to be told and the duty to disclose: Debating birth certificates .....	107
3.7 Recapitulation .....	112
4. Public stories and new networks .....
Donor-conceived activism .....	115

4.1	Seeing the truth, telling the truth: The fight for real families .....	116
4.2	“Just one of many ways”: Taking a stand for normality .....	121
4.3	The stories of others: Finding information, validation and community online .....	126
4.4	Conceiving Spenderkinder: Donor-conceived activism in Germany .....	134
4.5	Recapitulation .....	146
5.	Micropolitics of not-knowing
	Imagining continuities and relations .....	147
5.1	Half a family tree: Lost identities and recreated continuities .....	148
5.2	Truth will out: Retrospective reasoning and feeling the truth .....	154
5.3	Similar relations: Generational flows and curious continuities .....	160
5.4	Scanning for similarities: Active not-knowing and unfinished relations .....	167
5.5	Recapitulation .....	172
6.	When the cat has been let out of the bag
	Managing kinship trouble .....	173
6.1	Who knew what and when: Broken trust and foreign children .....	175
6.2	Who should know what: Relations between concealment and revelation .....	181
6.3	Sibling trouble: Similar relations, uneven knowledge .....	186
6.4	The offspring's children: Managing intergenerational relations .....	191
6.5	Recapitulation .....	200
7.	Connections you might (not) make
	Mandatory and voluntary registers .....	203
7.1	Opening the register: Managing information and expectations .....	205
7.2	Guidelines, judgment, googling: The de-identification of information .....	209
7.3	Non-identifying information and “knowing the donor as a person” .....	215
7.4	“I might never find out”: Removing anonymity, re-moving uncertainty .....	221
7.5	(In)voluntary siblings: searching and hoping for lateral kinship ties .....	224
7.6	Matching probabilities: Voluntary registers and DNA testing .....	237
7.7	Recapitulation .....	242
8.	Infrastructuring DNA
	Commercial genetic testing .....	245
8.1	Relationship ranges, ethnicity estimates: Measuring kinship and ancestry .....	248
8.2	Digital DNA: Working out relationships and infrastructuring information .....	254
8.3	Having to try: Anonymity and inevitable choices .....	264
8.4	Waiting for DNA: More matches, more hope, more frustration? .....	271
8.5	Recapitulation .....	278
9.	Conclusion .....	281

References .....	297
List of abbreviations .....	329
List of figures .....	331
Acknowledgements .....	333

