

Contents

- Structural Overview 9
- Acknowledgements 11
- Introduction 13
 - Research Objective..... 14
 - Framing Mexican Migration 15
 - General Panorama of German-Mexican Studies 17
 - Mexican emigration to Germany 19
 - Significance of this Research..... 22
 - Monograph Structure 24
- 1 Theoretical Lens 27
 - 1.1 The Imaginary: History of a Concept 28
 - 1.2 Mapping the Imaginaries in Different Academic Contexts 32
 - 1.3 Approaching Social Life from the Perspective of the Imaginaries 35
 - 1.3.1 Foundations for Understanding the Imaginaries:
The Social Construction of Reality 36
 - 1.3.2 Fields of Action of the Imaginaries 40
 - 1.4 Migrant Imaginaries 67
 - 1.4.1 The Imaginary Dimension of Life in Migration 68
 - 1.4.2 The Nation as a Dominant Imaginary and its Effects on Migration 72
 - 1.5 Summary..... 83
- 2 Methodology 85
 - 2.1 Research Design..... 85
 - 2.1.1 The Life Story Approach 91
 - 2.2 Procedure for the Collection of Empirical Materials 95
 - 2.2.1 Selection Criteria for Participants 96
 - 2.2.2 Finding Participants 97
 - 2.2.3 Participants' General Information 97

2.2.4	The Conversations	98
2.2.5	Methodology and Tools	103
2.2.6	Transcription & Translation	105
2.3	Analysis Procedure	106
2.3.1	Zooming Out – Getting to Know the Stories as Unities	106
2.3.2	Zooming In – Thematic Analysis	107
2.4	Critical Reflection on the Research Procedure	110
2.4.1	Reflection on Challenges and Limitations	110
2.4.2	Reflection as Researcher and Co-producer of Stories	114
2.4.3	Reflection on my Own Story	115
2.5	Summary	117
3	Re-imagining Life through Migration	119
3.1	Lifestyle in Migration	120
3.2	Motivations for Mobility	124
3.2.1	Motivation for Migration Prior to Germany	127
3.2.2	Motivation for Migrating to Germany	131
3.3	Re-imagining Life in Germany	136
3.3.1	Arrival and First Impressions	136
3.3.2	Internal Mobility in Germany	145
3.3.3	Re-Imagining Life Quality, Lifestyle and Security	154
3.4	Summary	174
4	Re-imagining Mexicanness	175
4.1	Dialectic between Self-Perception, Perception of Others and Meta-Perception	180
4.1.1	Being Mexican	180
4.1.2	Double Role: as Ambassadors and/or Prisoners of Culture	188
4.2	Re-configuration of Mexicanness through Practices	202
4.2.1	Mexican Cuisine	203
4.2.2	Celebrations, Folkloric Dancing and Traditional and Ethnic Dress	211
4.2.3	Socio-Political Practices	221
4.3	Summary	224
5	Re-imagining Change and Belonging: Agency between Dominant and Emergent Imaginaries	227
5.1	Being Germanized	228
5.2	Fuzziness: “Not Here, Not There” & “Trapped between Two Worlds”	238
5.3	Practices in the Context of Change	240
5.4	Summary	243

Conclusions	245
References	251
List of Figures/Tables	287
List of Abbreviations	289
Appendices	291
Appendix A: Conversation Index	291
Appendix B: Rules for Transcribing	292
Appendix C: Participant Overview	294

