

About the Authors

Stefan Aleksić, MSc is a journalist and a writer for numerous regional web portals and printed media. He finished anthropology studies at Belgrade University and obtained a Masters degree in gender studies from the Faculty of Political Sciences. He has lectured at a number of conferences of European universities and, as an academic, is interested in numerous policy areas, most notably: imagining and producing urban order; citizenship; nation, nationalism and nation states; migration; and belonging. He has been associated with the Clean Clothes Campaign since 2016. e-mail: highspeedyoyo@gmail.com.

Evelyn Astor is a Policy Officer in the Economic and Social Policy Department of the International Trade Union Confederation. e-mail: evelyn.astor@ituc-csi.org.

Artem Chapeye is a writer and freelance journalist in Kyiv, Ukraine. e-mail: chapeye@gmail.com.

Oksana Dutchak is a PhD student at the Department of Sociology of Kyiv Polytechnic Institute. Her main research interests include, but are not limited to: labour protests; political economy; globalisation; reproductive labour; and gender inequality. e-mail: ok.dutchak@gmail.com.

Remzije Istrefi is Professor of International Human Rights Law, International Organizations and Transitional Justice at the Faculty of Law of the University of Prishtina. e-mail: remzie.istrefi@uni.pr.edu.

Rajko Kosanović PhD is Counsellor to the President of the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Unions of Serbia. He received his PhD at the Faculty of Law, University of Belgrade. Before moving to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Union of Serbia in 2007, he was employed at the Health Secretariat of the City Assembly of Belgrade as Assistant Secretary for Economic Affairs. He has published several books and has written over 212 articles.

Bettina Musiolek, Dr. has coordinated the Business and Human Rights Team at Entwicklungspolitisches Netzwerk Sachsen since 2010. Since 1998, she has expanded the work of the international Clean Clothes Campaign into central, east and south-east Europe, and Turkey, where she implements action-oriented research, capacity building, networking, advocacy and campaigns. Together with researchers in the respective countries, she has published a wide range of work on the situation of garment and shoe workers in east and south Europe. Both Stitched Up (2014) and Labour on a Shoestring (2016) have raised public attention on the human rights conditions involved in producing fashion ‘made in Europe’. e-mail: bettina.musiolek@einewelt-sachsen.de. cleanclothes.org/livingwage/europe

M. Kemal Öke Dr. is Emeritus Professor. He previously worked for the Labour Ministry as an Inspector of Industrial Relations, as well as for the trade union movement as educator and international relations consultant. Lately, he worked in a university where he taught courses on social policy and labour law.

Sanja Paunović PhD is Economic Counsellor to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Unions of Serbia. She received her PhD at Singidunum University. Before moving to the Confederation of Autonomous Trade Union of Serbia in 2007, she was employed at the Federal Ministry of Foreign Trade, the Federal Ministry for Foreign Economic Relations and the Ministry for International Economic Relations of Serbia and Montenegro. She has authored several books and has written over 80 articles.

Bruno S. Sergi is Professor of International Economics at the University of Messina and Center Associate of the Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies of Harvard University. Bruno is additionally an instructor at Harvard University; and he is also a member of the Editorial Board of the SEER Journal for Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe. e-mail: bsergi@unime.it.

Bojana Tamindžija is a journalist and a researcher. Her main fields of interests are: labour rights; union organising; art; and politics. Having graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts, she is currently working toward an MA in Cultural Studies at the Faculty of Political Sciences, Belgrade. She is a member of the Editorial Board of the web portal Mašina and is an activist in Left Summit of Serbia. She has been associated with the Clean Clothes Campaign since 2016. e-mail: bojana.tamindzija@gmail.com.

Fabian Teichmann Dr. iur Dr. rer. pol. holds a PhD in law from the University of Zurich and is also a Doctor of Economics and Social Sciences at the University of Kassel (Germany). Currently, he serves as attorney-at-law and public notary in Switzerland. He speaks German, English, French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese and Russian. e-mail: fabianmteichmann@gmail.com.