

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
List of Abbreviations	11
1 Introduction	13
1.1 Nepali Labor Migration in the Global Economy	15
1.2 Research Approach and Guiding Questions	17
1.3 Structure of the Book	19
2 Conceptual Framework	23
2.1 Towards a Political Geography of Labor Migration	24
2.1.1 Transnational migration, translocality, and global labor	24
2.1.2 Identities and intersectionality in migration regimes.....	28
2.1.3 The infrastructure of migration and the commodification of migrant labor	30
2.2 Conceptualizing the Governmentality of Migration	35
2.2.1 Governmentality—an analytics of power and subjectification	35
2.2.2 Geographical scale and global regimes of colonialism, development, and neoliberalism through the lens of governmentality	47
2.2.3 Governing through embodied practice	54
2.2.4 Three themes in the governmentality of migration.....	60
2.3 The Marketization of Migrant Labor.....	64
2.3.1 Economics as performative: conceptual premises	64
2.3.2 Core concepts on the formatting of markets	66
2.3.3 Marketization and the governmentality of migrant labor	68
2.4 Assembling the Conceptual Building Blocks.....	69
3 Methodological Approaches towards an Ethnography of Government	73
3.1 Identifying the Research Context.....	74
3.2 Ethnographic Research Approach and Practice	76
3.2.1 Situated knowledge production and positionality	77
3.2.2 An iterative-inductive journey towards multi-sensory research.....	82

3.3	Specific Tools of Analysis	89
3.3.1	Discourse analysis	89
3.3.2	Materiality and affect	95
3.3.3	Genealogy	98
4	Analysis:
	The Governmentality of Nepali Labor Migration	101
4.1	Governing through Recruitment	103
4.1.1	Labor migration as a solution and problem	105
4.1.2	Recruiting into migrant subjectivities	117
4.1.3	State government of migration and recruitment	133
4.1.4	“Subterranean” practices in the recruitment industry	144
4.1.5	Experiencing recruitment amidst competing technologies of government	157
4.2	Governing Market Encounters	167
4.2.1	Interviews and practical skill tests as market encounters	170
4.2.2	Governing migrant workers abroad	184
4.2.3	International techniques and dynamics of hiring Nepali labor	191
4.2.4	Singularizing the “Nepali worker” on the international market	199
4.2.5	Selections and differential hiring among Nepali candidates	214
4.3	Governing through Instruction	230
4.3.1	Towards the “qualified worker:” Technical and vocational training	233
4.3.2	Competing instructions on recruitment and pre-departure conduct	244
4.3.3	Directives and advice on health, safety, and rules abroad	257
4.3.4	Instructing towards the submissive and productive migrant worker	273
4.3.5	Coaching towards development and self-marketization	288
4.4	Discussion:
	Governing Nepali Labor Migration and Migrant Subjectivities	304
4.4.1	Three pillars of the migration regime	304
4.4.2	Subjectification and marketization of migrant workers between coercive conduct and technologies of the self	312
5	Conclusion	327
5.1	Governing Nepali Migrant Subjects—a Synopsis	328
5.2	Conceptual and Methodological Contributions	330
5.3	Empirical Contributions and Implications	332
References	337
Newspaper Articles	363
Cited Primary Sources	368
Appendix: Interview Guidelines	373
Example 1: Guideline Recruitment Agencies (2018)	373
Example 2: Guideline Technical Skill Training Institutes (2018)	374	