

Table of Contents

List of Boxes	7
List of Graphs	7
List of Tables	8
List of Maps	8
List of Acronyms	9
 Acknowledgment	 13
1 Introduction	15
 I Conceptual Framework
2 The Business Sector in Conflict Prevention, Conflict Settlement and Peacebuilding: Potentials and Limits of a New Type of Partnership	23
2.1 Corporate engagement in conflict management: Background of a new concept	23
2.2 Businessmen, business associations and economic elite: A closer look	28
2.3 Potential roles for business in conflict management: From conflict prevention to post-conflict peacebuilding	33
2.4 Who, how, where and why: A brief analysis of the demand for corporate engagement in conflict management	45
 3 Corporate Costs of War and Peace	 51
3.1 Costs of war	52
3.2 Costs of peace	68
3.3 Is there a role for business participation in conflict management? Some conclusions	79

II Case Study

4 The Economic and Social Structure of Guatemala	85
4.1 The Guatemalan economy and the dominance of coffee	85
4.2 Economic impacts of the war	96
4.3 Excursion: The indigenous population in Guatemala	103
5 Structure and Role of the Private Business Sector in Guatemala	107
5.1 The private sector in Guatemala – its characteristics and historic political role	108
5.2 Business organizations in Guatemala	113
6 The Private Business Sector during the Civil War	125
6.1 The war begins: The period between 1960 and 1970	126
6.2 A violent interlude: Low-intensity warfare as a business climate	131
6.3 The second war peak: The business sector between fleeing the country and developing new conflict management strategies	137
7 The Costs of Peace: Entering the Peace Process	151
7.1 Negotiating interests: The business sector during the commencement of the peace process	152
7.2 Progress and setback during the government of Serrano	164
7.3 The business sector gets more involved: The peace process during the De León- administration	177
7.4 The private sectors concurrence: The peace process comes to an end	201
8 Complying with the Peace Accords: The Private Business Sector's Role during Peace Building	213
8.1 No war but no success: A brief overview of the implementation of the peace accords	214
8.2 Is there a role for the business sector in the post-settlement phase? Some general thoughts	217
8.3 Difficult dialogues: Still no climate for peaceful conflict settlement?	219
8.4 The constitutional referendum of May 1999	222
8.5 Economic dimensions of peace	226

9 Conclusion and Policy Implications on Business Engagement in Conflict Management	247
9.1 The business sector in the Guatemalan peace processes: Findings from the case study	247
9.2 Comparison of the Guatemalan case with other peace process	260
9.3 Policy implications	269
Appendices	271
Appendix 1: Maps	271
Appendix 2: Destruction and damage of fincas (1978-1994)	274
Appendix 3: Destroyed infrastructure (1981-1995)	276
Bibliography	279

List of Boxes

Box 1: Violent conflict and peace: Some definitions	24
Box 2: Definition of conflict management and related expressions	34
Box 3: Policy Implications	269

List of Graphs

Graph 1: Area planted with coffee and production between 1961 and 2002	88
Graph 2: Area planted with sugar cane and production between 1961 and 2002	89
Graph 3: Area planted in with bananas and production between 1961 and 2002	90
Graph 4: GDP growth rates in Guatemala between 1971 and 2003	93
Graph 5: Gross Domestic Product to constant market prices from 1995 in million USD between 1950 and 2001	93
Graph 6: Percent of killings and disappearances occurring in rural areas by year, 1960-1995	99
Graph 7: Number of visitors for the years 1973-2000	101
Graph 8: Foreign exchange from tourism in million USD from 1973-2000	101
Graph 9: Export value of main traditional product between 1995 and 2002	102