

Contents

Acknowledgements 7

Introduction 11

1.1 Structure..... 13

1.2 Methodology..... 14

1.3 Challenges..... 16

1.4 Current State of Research..... 18

A History of Trauma 25

2.1 Railway Spine 27

2.2 Hysteria 28

2.3 Traumatic Neurosis and Shell Shock 32

2.4 Traumatic Neurosis of War..... 36

2.5 The Unrepresentable in Psychoanalysis 38

2.6 Female Trauma..... 41

2.7 PTSD 42

2.8 Body-Memory: Traces of Trauma 45

2.9 Collective Trauma and Terror..... 50

2.10 Cultural Trauma as a Social Construct..... 54

2.11 Truth and Trauma 57

Challenging Trauma as the Unrepresentable 59

3.1 The Testimony: Transmitting Trauma, Performing Trauma..... 61

3.2 Secondary Traumatization 64

3.3 Empathy as a Mode of Perception..... 67

3.4 The Unrepresentable in Trauma Studies 69

3.5 The Unrepresentable in the Aesthetic Theory of Adorno and Lyotard 77

3.6 Challenging Trauma as the Unrepresentable..... 83

3.7 Are Some Things Unrepresentable? 85

3.8 Intolerable Images 90

3.9 “To Remember, One Must Imagine” 93

3.10 "The Exercise Of Art"	95
Trauma Narratives	101
4.1 Omer Fast.....	103
4.2 Janet Cardiff and George Bures Miller	126
4.3 An Infinite Story	145
Trauma Spaces	149
5.1 Paul McCarthy	152
5.2 Forensic Architecture	172
5.3 Memories in Motion	194
Trauma – Curational Perspectives	199
6.1 Space and Time Frame.....	202
6.2 Traumatized Art.....	204
6.3 Trauma in the Contemporary Art Museum	207
6.4 Contemporary Art on Conflict and Trauma in the War Museum	218
6.5 Aesthetic Strategies	225
Conclusion and Outlook	231
Bibliography	239
List of Figures	255