

Contents

Foreword: The Resonance of Soundscapes

By Ignacio Fariás 9

Prologue 13

1. Introduction: Sound, Sense and Place 17

Researching the Senses 17

Sound Studies 21

Sonic Assemblages and the City 25

2. Archeoacoustics: A Soundwalk through History 33

Listening to the Past 33

Rituals 34

Omens and Gladiators 36

The God-fearing Soundscapes of Christianity 38

Carts, Carriages, and the Luxury of Silence 40

The Train and the Stethoscope 42

Twitter Killed the Radio Star 45

Articulating the Present 47

3. Palimpsest: The Contemporary City's Intersecting Sonic Layers 51

Invisible Cities 51

Traditional Urbanism and Urban Assemblages 52

Listening from the Sidewalk 57

Sonic Communities 61

Transportation	64
Acoustic Manipulation	67
Natural Soundscapes	72
Silence	76
A Constant Becoming	82
4. Into Sound: Methods and Methodologies	89
Mapping Sonic Sensibilities	89
Soundscape Ecology	93
Sonic Effects	102
Acoustic Identity of Cities	109
Auto-Ethnographic Approaches into Sound	120
Rhythmanalysis	121
Flânerie	124
Sensuous Scholarship	126
There's More to Qualitative Research than Meets the Eye	130
5. Vienna Multiple: The Resonant Fabrics of a City	137
Stabilizing Vibrations	137
The Many Voices of the City	141
Sonic Phobias and Preferences	141
Stories of Blindness, Busking, and Planning	151
Walking the City	161
A Closer Listening: Stephansplatz, Reumannplatz, Mariahilferstraße	172
Improving the Sonic Quality of Vienna	181
A Plea for Open Ears	185
Epilogue	187
Bibliography	191