

Contents

Abbreviations	9
Acknowledgements	11
Introduction: Fractured Lives	13
The Identity of Financial Inclusion	14
Mapping Debates on Microfinance and Financial Inclusion	18
The Relevance of Investigating Fractured Lives	24

Part I: Thinking Development through Finance

Chapter 1

Boom and Bust: A Very Brief History of Modern Microfinance	31
Finance and Development in a Post-Colonial Context	32
Experimenting with Microcredit	34
From Villages to Washington...to Crisis	37

Chapter 2

Expanding the Frontiers of Poverty Finance	41
Leveraging the Financial Systems Approach	41
Developing A New Market Segment: The Unbanked	45
Profits at the Bottom of the Pyramid	49
India's Significance for the New Development Agenda	53

Chapter 3

Synopsis: Thinking Development through Finance	57
---	----

Part II: Foundations for Researching Fractured Lives

Chapter 4

Coming to Terms with A Historical and Materialist Reality	63
The Case for A Realist and Stratified Ontology	65
Marx's Philosophy of Internal Relations	67
The Irreducibility of Structure and Agency: Tracing History Backwards	69

Chapter 5

Marx on Money, Finance, and Power in Capitalism	73
Money as Everything and Nothing	75
Money, Power, and Class Rule	78
The Topsy-Turvy World of Credit and Finance Capital	84
The Exploitative Dynamics of (Micro)Finance	92

Chapter 6

A Shift in Perspective: Social Reproduction Feminism	99
The Life of Labour and the Labour of Life	100
Valuing Reproductive Labour	102
The Financialisation of Social Reproduction	105

Chapter 7

A Strategic Intervention: Racial Finance Capitalism	111
Race, Racism and Capitalist Development	112
Caste, Racialisation and Racial Capitalism	119
Racial Finance Capitalism in India	126

Chapter 8

Investigating Regimes of Re/Productive Finance	131
Incorporated Comparison as Relational Research Strategy	131
Regimes of Re/Productive Finance	133
Windy Roads to Sampling	138
The Purpose of Interviews: A Relational Account	141

Part III: Regimes of Re/Productive Finance in Modern India

Chapter 9

The Making of the Indebted Peasant	149
A Political Economy of Plunder	150
The Contested Moneylender-State Nexus	155

Colonial Roots of the Unbanked	161
--------------------------------------	-----

Chapter 10

The State of Financial Inclusion	169
The Contradictions of Post-Colonial Development	170
Social Banking: Ambitious and Ambiguous	177
Signs of Erosion and the Expansion of Civil Society	183

Chapter 11

The Ascent of Market-Based Reproductive Debt	189
Neoliberal Reforms and the Contemporary Crisis of Social Reproduction	189
Between State and Market Capture: The Foundations of India's Debtfare State	194
Financialising the Subsistence Gap	199
Healthy Profits: The Contradictions of India's Debtfare State	207

Chapter 12

Synopsis: A Systemic View on Re/Productive Finance	215
---	-----

Part IV: Beyond India's Silicon Valley: Precarious Migrant Workers and Re/Productive Finance in Bengaluru

Chapter 13

Migrant Workers Between Expropriation, Exploitation, and Exclusion	223
The Underbelly of India's Urbanisation	226
Slow Violence and a Debt for Life	228
Dispossession in the Name of Development	233
Exclusionary Welfare & Market-Based Social Reproduction	237
The Debt-Distress Cycle of Re/Productive Finance	239

Chapter 14

Caring for Debts...for Life	243
Invisible, Essential, Devalued: The Nature of Domestic Work	243
Relational Rationalities of Indebtedness	247
Exploitative Dimensions of Reproductive Debt	252

Chapter 15

The Convergence of Labour and Debt Struggles	261
Gendered Exploitation in Garment Supply Chains	263
Reproductive Debt and Garment Workers' Safety Net(s)	269
The Intensification of An Existential Crisis of Social Reproduction	274

Chapter 16

Synopsis: The Structural Violence of Re/Productive Finance in Bengaluru 279

Concluding Remarks: The History and Afterlives of Unpayable Debts 285

Microfinance and the Financialisation of Development Policy 286

Theorising Fractured Lives 287

Three Regimes of Re/Productive Finance 290

Precarious Migrant Workers and The Structural Violence of Reproductive Debt 293

Looking Ahead: The Future of Unpayable Debts 296

Bibliography 301

Appendix

List of Interviews 349

Household Interviews 349

Microfinance Institutions (MFIs) 351

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) 351

Civil Society Actors (CSA), including Academics 352