

About the Authors

Snežana Aleksić MSc is currently a PhD student at Megatrend University, where she qualified for her Masters in Economics in 2014, and an Expert Associate for Economic Affairs in JKP Belgrade ‘Water and Sewage’. She is the author of a large number of published professional and scientific articles, as well as several scientific monographs, two of which were nominated for the Belgrade City Award in 2017 and 2018.

Ivan Arnautović PhD is Professor in the Higher Educational Institution for Applied Studies in the Entrepreneurship and Security in Belgrade. He became a Doctor of Economics following a study of international economics at the Faculty of Economics of the University of Montenegro in Podgorica, commenced in 2011 after a turning to postgraduate study in 2009. e-mail: ivanarnautovic@gmail.com

Jens Becker PhD heads the doctoral funding department of Hans-Böckler-Stiftung. He mainly publishes on the history of the European labour and trade union movement and on eastern and south-eastern Europe. He is a member of the Editorial Board of the SEER Journal of Labour and Social Affairs in Eastern Europe, published by Nomos Verlag in association with the European Trade Union Institute (ETUI).

Petar Čelik, PhD obtained his doctorate in Digital Business Transformation and Its Safety Implications at the Faculty of Economics and Engineering Management in the University of Business Academy in Novi Sad in July 2020. He has worked since 2011 as a Professor and, from the beginning of 2015, at the Higher Educational Institution for Applied Studies in Entrepreneurship and Security in Belgrade, where he teaches subjects in e-business and cyber security and its implications. e-mail: petar2celik@gmail.com

Osman Kadriu Prof. Dr. is one of the nine judges of the Constitutional Court of the Republic of North Macedonia. He first served as a judge in a municipal court in 1976 and has since had both a legal, a political and an academic career. He defended his doctoral dissertation at the Faculty of Law in Belgrade in 1999 on the issue of the illegal termination of employment contracts. He was elected to the Constitutional Court in 2018 and has published seven books and a large number of articles concerning civil law, constitutional law and politics, and labour law. He has also served in a variety of senior capacities at a number of academic institutions within Macedonia.

Emirali Karadoğan is a PhD in social policy and a researcher and trade union expert in Tez-Koop-İş Union, Turkey’s Commerce, Co-operative, Education, Office and Fine Arts Workers union. He has carried out studies on occupational health and safety, child labour and industrial relations. His first book is Health and Safety of Port Workers, available from Siyasal Publications. e-mail: emiralikaradogan@gmail.com.

Miodrag Komarčević PhD graduated from the Faculty of Defence and Protection, where he received his master's degree and doctorate in 1993 in the area of domestic security. So far, he has published five books in the security field. He teaches seven subjects in the field of security sciences at the Higher Educational Institution for Applied Studies of Entrepreneurship and Security in Belgrade. e-mail: mile.komarcevic@gmail.com.

Ina Kulić was born in Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina, and is a scholarship holder of the Hans-Böckler-Stiftung. She is working on her doctorate at the Sigmund-Freud-Institut in Frankfurt, where she conducts research from a socio-psychological perspective among refugee families from the former Yugoslavia on the cross-generational transmission of trauma effects following forced migration.

Željko Mirjanić PhD is full Professor in the Faculty of Law, Department of Administrative Law, Labour and Social Law of the University of Banja Luka, and the author of a large number of works on the issue of labour law and social reform, social dialogue and EU accession, as well as the Dayton Agreement, since accessing the post in 2004. e-mail: zeljko.mirjanic@pf.unibl.org

Dimitar Nikoloski PhD is Professor in the Faculty of Economics of 'St. Kliment Ohridski' Bitola, North Macedonia, where his research interests include low wage employment and in-work poverty, the impact of foreign direct investment on employment and the informal economy. e-mail: dimitar.nikoloski@uklo.edu.mk.

Slobodan Petrović PhD is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Social Sciences in Belgrade and, since 2020, Editor of the legal-political section of the Faculty's journal Social Horizons. In 2018, he became a Doctor of Law, defending his doctoral dissertation on 'Political and legal experiences of the development of political systems in the states that emerged from the former SFRY' at the Faculty of Law, Megatrend University in Belgrade. e-mail: slobpetrovic@yahoo.de.

Qerim Qerimi is a Professor at the University of Prishtina and a Visiting Professor and member of the Law and Development Research Group at the University of Antwerp. He is a current member of the Council of Europe's European Commission for Democracy through Law (Venice Commission) and the vice-chair of its sub-committee on the rule of law. He also serves as a Rapporteur for Oxford International Organizations (OXIO). His expertise, research activities and publications have addressed European integration processes and policies including conditionality, rule of law and capacity-building in countries in transition with an emphasis on south-eastern Europe. e-mail: qerim.qerimi@uni-pr.edu.

Temelko Risteski PhD is Dean of the Faculty of Law of FON University (now American University of Europe), Skopje, North Macedonia.

Marko Šukalo, MSc is PhD candidate at the Faculty of Law, Belgrade.

Tatjana Velkova PhD is Associate Professor in the Faculty of Law of FON University (now the American University of Europe), Skopje, North Macedonia.