

Contents

Opening

Notes on Facing Drag	11
Evelyn Annuß

Caribbean Critical Thought and “Drag” Performances of Indigenization	25
Zimitri Erasmus

Temporal Drag and Queering Fabulations

Transtemporal Making-Out—On “Temporal Drag” in Jessica Dunn Rovinelli’s So Pretty (2019)	37
Sam Ehrentraut

“Whose Portrait?” Fabulations and Triangulations in Shirley Clarke’s Portrait of Jason (1967)	55
Nanna Heidenreich

Performing along “the” Color Line

Blackface from Time to Time	73
Eric Lott

Reading the Blackened Faces of the Ku-Klux Klan in the Reconstruction-Era United States	87
Elaine S. Frantz

Gender Bending in the Southern Babylon: Black “Female Impersonators” in 1940s to 1960s New Orleans	103
Aurélie Godet

Facing Contemporary Commodification

Digital Blackface and Memetic Ambiguity 137
Katrin Köppert

On Arab Masquerades and Necropolitics: Invisibilization and Hypervisibilization in Israeli Popular Culture 151
Raz Weiner

Staging (Post)Colonial Relations

Borrowed Plumes, Jesuit Drag, and Costumes as Uncontrollable Residuals 169
Karin Harrasser

Japonist Drag: Performing Entangled Exoticisms in Dance and Theater around 1900 189
Julia Ostwald

Epilogue

nora chipaumire in conversation with Jay Pather 221

Acknowledgments 231
Postscript 233
Biographies 235
About mdwPress 239